HEPBURN AND PLANE PARTY SAFE IN NORTH

But Ontario Premier Takes Train to Skagway as Weather Bad

To Come South Aboard Ship

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, beset by stormy weather, was forced today to abandon temporarily his air tour of the Dominion and travel by train.

A report from Carcross, Y.T., where the Premier and his party were forced down last night, said Mr. Hepburn had left for Skagway by train. At Skagway he will board the steamer Princess Alice tonight bound for Vancouver.

It was presumed Bernard E. Smith, New York broker, and J. P. Bickell, Toronto financier, his companions on an 8,000-mile tour, boarded the train with him, but the report did not say.

Pilot Jimmy Towne, former Canadian Air Force flier, was to remain at Carcross with the plane until the weather cleared. It was believed he would meet the party at Vancouver, or at Campbell River, B.C., where the members planned to fish.

NEWS AFTER SILENCE

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Premier Hepburn of Ontario and his flying party today were safe at Carcross, 30 miles south of here, after they had been reported overdue at Juneau, Alaska, since yesterday.

The plane, which took off from here at 4:15 p.m. yesterday for a 200-mile flight to Juneau, was unable to get to the Alaska city on account of bad weather and turned back.

The party awaited weather reports at Carcross.

MESSAGES LACKING

The advices from Carcross ended 15 hours of considerable anxiety for the Premier and his three companions.

It was believed the party had "sat down" somewhere, but on account of lack of communications their safety could not be established.

The opening of communications today had been anxiously awaited, while preparations were made to stand ready for dispatch of a search party if necessary. Premier Pattullo said British Columbia would inaugurate a search if requested.

With the Premier on an 8,000-mile flight through Canada's west, and northward and to the Pacific coast are J. P. Bickell, Toronto financier, and Bernard Smith, New York broker. The plane is piloted by Jimmy Towne.

STARTED FROM TORONTO

They left Toronto July 17, arrived in Dawson, Y.T., Wednesday and took off from there yesterday. After a brief stop at Whitehorse for weather reports, they proceeded for Juneau, but made their third Yukon landing at Carcross.

Premier Hepburn's present plans, so far as known, are to proceed to Juneau and then to Campbell River on Vancouver (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

JAMES ISLAND BOY DROWNED

Raymund A. Emmens Victim of Tragedy at Sidney; Was Born Here

The body of Raymund Albert Emmens of James Island was taken from the water at Sidney this morning, according to a Provincial Police report.

Pull details of the drowning could not be learned up to noon today, but it is understood the 18-year-old youth has just returned from a boat trip to Maple Bay with Wallace Bond, Billy Bond and Billy Kidd.

Born in Victoria, he had attended Kingsley Private School, Vancouver, for several years. He was prominent in the athletic life of the school, especially in basketball, baseball and track work.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Emmens, James Island.

McCall Brothers have charge of the funeral arrangements.

Smouldering Mass Today Where C.P.R. Pier D Stood Yesterday

VANCOUVER (CP)—An estimated $1,200,000 worth of waterfront property was a smouldering mass of wreckage today as an investigation was started into Vancouver's most disastrous harbor fire since 1930 which razed the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company's Pier D and menaced a mile of close-packed wharfs and industrial buildings.

From the 25-year-old pier at the foot of Granville Street, one of the city's main thoroughfares, millions of passengers had embarked on coastal steamships plying to Victoria, Seattle, Nanaimo and the northern coast.

Two of the Canadian Pacific's steamers—the Princess Adelaide and Princess Charlotte—were backed away from the dock as the flames caught hold.

No one knew what started the fire, the first puff of smoke from which was seen about 1:45 yesterday afternoon. There were suggestions it might have been of incendiary origin, but Fire Chief Archie McDiarmid said he thought it was more likely a smouldering cigarette butt slipped between planking and fell to a spot where it set fire to tinder-dry woodwork without being noticed.

Thousands of Vancouver residents stood within a block or so of the fire as it roared through the pier, then began to spread east and west through dock planking. Before firemen checked its side branches, it had destroyed a cargo shed to the east of Pier D, and threatened further destruction to C.P.R. Pier B-C to the west, used by the company's trans-Pacific liners, and other close-built waterfront properties.

FIREBOAT PLAN IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. C. D. Howe, Federal Minister of Transport, said here today the National Harbor Board of Canada expected the same fire protection service as any other taxpayer on the Vancouver waterfront when questioned about the fire which destroyed the Canadian Pacific Steamship's Pier D yesterday.

"Our attitude is clear," he told newspapermen. "If the city wants to organize a fire boat, we are ready to do what other waterfront operators do to co-operate."

Royal Family On Yacht Cruise

LONDON (AP)—King George left state duties today for a yachting holiday with Queen Elizabeth and their daughters, Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose. Starting from Portsmouth aboard the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, the royal party planned to cruise slowly along the English Channel to Scotland.

NEW HIGH COMMISSIONER

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Sir Harry F. Battenberg will be the new British High Commissioner to New Zealand. The appointment was announced last night. He has been assistant under-secretary of state for the Dominion Office.

BODY IS FOUND NEAR ALBERNI

Remains Believed Those of Murder Victim Make Mystery For Police

Special to the Times

PORT ALBERNI—The body of an unidentified man—dead some three months and believed to have been murdered—was found by berry pickers yesterday in the lush close to the Alberni Pacific Lumber Company's Camp One, on the Beaver Creek road, 14 miles west of Port Alberni.

Pending a report from the examining physician, Dr. George Helem, police believed that the man had been shot through the back of the head and possibly clubbed on the forehead, as indicated by three distinct fractures.

The body had evidently been dragged some distance to a shallow depression in the ground and covered with light saplings and ferns. There were no papers in the dead man's pockets to identify him, and police have no record of any one reported missing here.

He was a man between 30 and 35 years of age, five feet six inches tall, with sandy hair and prominent upper teeth. He was wearing blue bib overalls, a red shirt and hobo-style boots. The body was badly decomposed and dried out, also making identification difficult. An inquest will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in Port Alberni.

Constable George Irvine of the Provincial Police is in charge of the investigation.

BARRED FROM MEETINGS

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—All members of the German army now are barred from attending meetings of the Young Men's Christian Association Invitations to such sessions were branded by Marshal Goering in an order last night as "interference in the army's spiritual education."

Care of Refugees Is Courtenay Problem

Mrs. H. Sidley Inquest Opposed

Executors Ask Toronto Court to End Inquiry as Body Not There

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. H. A. Bruce, former Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Dr. Smirle Lawson, Ontario chief coroner, were refused permission to examine Mrs. Mabelle Horlick Sidley about 30 hours before her death, W. Perkins Bull, K.C., stated today in a sworn affidavit filed at Osgoode Hall before hearing of a motion for an injunction "prohibiting" continuance of an inquest into her death was adjourned one week. Mrs. Sidley, daughter of the late William Horlick, founder of the malted milk fortune, died July 6 at Mr. Bull's home here.

Mr. Bull's affidavit was filed to support the motion brought by four executors of Mrs. Sidley's estate to prohibit an inquest into her death on the grounds the order for it is "without jurisdiction . . . in the absence of the body of the deceased person."

The remains of Mrs. Sidley were buried at Racine, Wis., her home. She had been visiting at Mr. Bull's home for more than a year prior to her death.

Hearing of the motion for an injunction was adjourned for one week when C. A. Magone of the Ontario Attorney-General's department requested it, and stated crown officials had not had sufficient time to prepare material in opposition to the motion.

TUNA FISH ARE NOW OFF OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The tuna fish, caught commercially in northern Pacific waters last year for the first time in history, returned to the Oregon coast today.

The ship Winterstadt docked with 10 tuna taken near the mouth of the Columbia River. Veteran fishermen who regarded the 1937 run as unusual, were doubtful, however, whether the fish would be available this season in sufficient numbers for docking.

VANCOUVER ROUND-UP

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two policemen, revolvers drawn, crept through underbrush toward a suspicious rustling. "Come out quietly. This is the police," said one. No sound was heard so they moved forward and found the culprit, it was a horse.

Benefits Planned to Aid Those Rendered Homeless By Island Fire

The plight of 195 refugees at Courtenay from Vancouver Island's greatest forest fire occupied principal public attention as the aftermath of the blaze which swept from Campbell River south.

While those rendered temporarily homeless were encamped under tents in the exhibition grounds at Courtenay, public benefits to raise funds for feeding them were being planned here.

Tomorrow the Salvation Army Band will present a concert in Beacon Hill Park. The crew of H.M.S. York will offer a concert next Monday and Tuesday in the Shrine Auditorium to aid them.

At Courtenay the refugees were under the care of a welfare committee of the Canadian Legion and Agricultural Association, headed by Mayor M. S. Stephens and Mrs. M. Bryant.

Hose lines still line the sidewalks at Courtenay and precautionary measures against any renewed outbreak of the fire are still being taken. Greater security has been promoted by the completion of an 18-foot fire-break around Courtenay, Cumberland and Bevan.

Just how long these three communities will remain safe is problematical. Forest protection (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

CLOSED GAME SEASON LIKELY

Attorney-General Wismer Orders Food For Homeless Birds in Island Fire Area

Probability of a closed season on Vancouver Island game was confirmed today by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer as he announced provisions were being made to care for the birds who have been orphaned by the island's greatest forest fire.

The Attorney-General, a keen sportsman himself, said he had issued instructions to the Game Department to supply grain to the grouse, which are huddled in large bunches on the roads, railway tracks and any green spots that were missed by the fire.

He also asked any persons who see flocks of birds which are not being provided for to report to game authorities in order that they may be prevented from starving.

Referring to the prospects of a closed season, Mr. Wismer said he had not made a final decision and would discuss the matter further with his assistants.

SIX ARABS ARE SHOT IN FIGHT

JERUSALEM (AP)—Six Arab constables on a patrol were wounded from ambush today near the little town of Bethlehem, Christ's birthplace.

They were attacked by a band just west of Bethlehem. After a running fight which lasted almost an hour, the assailants retreated. Their casualties were not known.

The situation in the north was reported quiet but tense.

Tipperary Song Author Dies

LONDON (AP)—The man who wrote the famous British war song, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," died today in Birmingham at the age of 60.

He was Jack Judge, a fish salesman who became a British vaudeville headliner. He had been in ill-health for some time. His publishers retired him on a life pension, saying Judge had written "a soldier's anthem which actually helped win the war."

Before he earned a fortune with one of the most successful popular song hits of the 20th century, he had spent many years selling fish in the old Bury Market in Staffordshire.

He wrote "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" on a bet while playing in vaudeville.

Faster Promotions In British Forces

Other Changes on 24th War Anniversary to Strengthen Army

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain announced two new moves today to hasten defence preparedness on the 24th anniversary of Austria-Germany's fateful declaration of war against Serbia.

The anniversary of that historic event which plunged the world into conflict virtually was forgotten here in the rush to make Great Britain's arrangements so formidable no country would dare provoke a new war.

Today's moves were: Rt. Hon. Leslie Hore-Belisha, War Secretary, carried his revolutionary changes in the army a step farther in promising faster promotions and other features designed to attract men into the service.

He disclosed that wealth or social position no longer would be necessary for admission to Sandhurst Military Academy.

EVACUATION PLANS

Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, at the same time promised speedy action on plans for evacuating the civilian population of London and other densely settled places in event of war.

He told the House of Commons a committee which had been working on the problem had reported and that every effort would be made to carry the preparations forward.

Embodied in the government's evacuation plans are measures for protection of persons who must remain behind to carry on essential industries and services.

BIGGER PENSIONS

Mr. Hore-Belisha, who already had shaken up the army at the top by retiring some older officers, announced these new steps to make the service branches more popular.

BOURLAMAQUE, Que. (CP)—The swift drop of a runaway hoist cage killed five young mining engineers today in the depths of the Lamaque Mining Company's $1,000,000 No. 7 gold shaft. Four victims of the plunge died instantly and the fifth in a hospital about an hour later.

Roger Taschereau, provincial inspector of mines, hurried here to conduct an investigation of the hoist cage's 700-foot plunge, and an inquest was ordered for later today.

Just going to work, the five young engineers stepped into the boxlike cage. Assistant Superintendent William Bennett, Toronto, was about to follow them into the hoist when it suddenly dropped from sight before his eyes, plummeting down into the blackness of the shaft.

HIT BULKHEAD

Bennett heard a dull crash far below as the cage smashed to bits against a wood and concrete bulkhead at the 700-foot level.

Peter Downey, 24, Gleichen, Alta.; Harry Field, 32, Bourlamaque; James J. Crocker, 23, Toronto, and Arthur M. Hewat, 32, Halifax, met instant death. W. Clarke Isbister, 23, Toronto, received fatal injuries.

Hewat leaves a widow and one child. Field is survived by a widow.

Downey and Crocker were graduates of the University of Toronto.

CABLE WAS NEW

Mine officials said they did not know the cause of the accident.

A new cable had been installed for the big cage only yesterday. An investigation was begun into the possibility that safety cogs, which had held the cable from slipping when the cage is not in motion, may have failed.

No. 7 shaft runs straight down for 700 feet. Then there is a slope blocking it off, before it starts down again for another 1,300 feet. Below that, there is a 1,600-foot slope to the 3,600-foot level. It was against the cement and timber slope that the dropping cage crumbled.

An emergency crew hurried to the spot.

SCORE OF DEATHS

The tragedy brought up to 20 the number of lives claimed in the northern Quebec district around here in mining accidents during the last eight weeks.

The Lamaque Mine, biggest exclusive producer of gold in Quebec province, is located just outside Bourlamaque, about five miles north of Abitibi County's southern border.

Civilians To Leave Hankow

Chinese Non-combatants to Move West; Japanese Driving Up Yangtze

By MORRIS HARRIS

Associated Press Foreign Staff SHANGHAI—Hankow authorities Thursday ordered the quick evacuation of all civilians in that populous area as Japanese troops moved relentlessly northward from Kiangsi.

The command showed growing Chinese fears for the metropolitan Wuhan area—Wuchang, Hankow and Hankou, General Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters and provisional capital—and authorities' desires to avoid the needless sacrifice of noncombatants in expected Japanese air raids.

The Japanese offensive Thursday entered Hupeh province, the 11th of 24 Chinese provinces to be involved in the conflict. Entrance to Hupeh was, made possible by the Japanese occupation Tuesday of Kiukiang.

COUNTER-ATTACKS

Reports of developments on the Kiukiang front were conflicting.

The Chinese admitted loss of the city, but maintained their forces had reorganized southwest of Kiukiang and launched a counter-offensive while huge fires were raging there.

Goods and Mail Saved From Fire

VANCOUVER (CP)—Only 30 tons of freight, a total value of $2,500, were destroyed by the Pier D fire yesterday, Canadian Pacific-Railway officials announced today. Half the weight lost was in condensed milk, the remainder in general cargo.

Loaded railway cars in the shed, baggage, and mail were nearly all removed in time by company employees and volunteers.

VANCOUVER FIRE IS INVESTIGATED

FOUR JUMPED INTO BAY

There were no serious injuries. Four firemen—Theodore Warne, Charles Fitzpatrick and Ralph Jacks—had a narrow escape when they were forced to jump into the water when trapped by flames. They received painful, though not serious, burns.

Two other men were knocked unconscious, but were released from hospital after examination. Every piece of firefighting apparatus in the city raced to the waterfront—the first four-alarm fire in Vancouver since 1936, when a large mill in the east end waterfront district was destroyed.

It was the biggest waterfront fire since the new Canadian National Steamships pier here was burned August 9, 1930.

Observers said the fire started at the end of the dock farthest from shore, and in a few minutes had rolled to the shoreward end. There were no passengers on the pier when the fire broke. At another hour one of the passenger ships might have been loading or unloading hundreds of passengers.

C.C.F. FIGHTS FASCIST MOVES

EDMONTON (CP)—A "wide-spread and rapidly growing sentiment" in support of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in Canada was reported today by J. S. Woodsworth, M.P. for Winnipeg North Centre, in his presidential address at the opening session of the national convention of the federation.

"We have staked our claims in almost every section of the country," said the leader. "These claims must now be developed." Careful planning in committee and effective organization were required.

Referring to activities of the federation throughout the Dominion, Mr. Woodsworth said the C.C.F. was more and more being recognized at the alternative to Liberal and Conservative governments. Both Liberals and Conservatives were largely dominated by Quebec, he said.

Subversion of sectional differences and personal ambitions in the major objective of establishment in Canada of a co-operative commonwealth was urged by Mr. Woodsworth. A state devoted to the general welfare could only be established on a co-operative basis, he said.

INVESTMENT BOARD

M. J. Coldwell, national chairman of the C.C.F., advocated socialization of the entire financial system and establishment of a national investment board to direct unused surpluses into productive channels for the public good.

Member of parliament for Rosetown-Biggar, Sask., Mr. Coldwell warned against the threat of Fascism in Canada and pleaded for civil, religious and economic liberty. Referring to controversy on federal and provincial rights, he declared problems of Dominion concern must be met on a national basis.

The C.C.F. had kept up a constant fight against the padlock law in Quebec, he said, and had urged its reference to the Supreme Court for judgment. The C.C.F. would continue to lead the fight for civil, religious and economic liberty as the three basic principles of democracy.

GROUPS DRILLING

"Fascism has as yet an uncertain foothold in this Dominion but ominous reports of secret drillings should place us on our guard," he said.

"We may yet face a struggle to preserve, without being able to extend, such democracy as we now possess."

Referring to the Rowell commission on Dominion-provincial relations, Mr. Coldwell said it was indicated certain provinces regarded themselves not as component parts of a nation but as sovereign states within the Dominion.

Mr. Coldwell called for housing and public works programs and shortened hours of labor, with minimum wages and adequate minimum prices for farm products, as immediate ameliorative measures. He included them among the policies "which would seem to need particular emphasis in this pre-election year."

CARE OF REFUGEES IS COURTNEY PROBLEM

authorities frankly admit the fire break would have little effect against a high wind, particularly one from the northwest, which would fan the fire and sweep it forward again toward the three communities.

Courtney just now presents an unusual sight to the visitor. Ashes are everywhere—although cleaning up has been started—and the presence of those on the sidewalks reminds one that the fear of the flames has not entirely passed.

The fire is still burning around the foot of Constitution Hill and the Forbidden Plateau and how far it will continue is uncertain. Here, again, everything depends on the wind. The hope is that the flames will burn themselves out before the wind starts again.

A heavy rain—an unlikely prospect at this time of year—is still the only sure salvation for the safety of the district. The woods are tinder dry and there is still the danger of new fires breaking out.

The Canadian destroyers, St. Laurent and Fraser, whose men did noble service while the fire was at its peak, have both returned to Esquimalt, the latter leaving a handful of men to stand by with their short wave radios to provide communication with the north-end of the island.

The 150 men taken ashore from the ships to patrol Courtney and assist generally, were returned to the Fraser before she left yesterday morning for Esquimalt.

It costs the modern farmer no more time and labor to produce 5,000 bushels of corn than it took for a farmer 100 years ago to produce 250 bushels.

CHAMBERLAIN TO SEE HITLER ENVOY

Friday and that his informal conversations with the Prime Minister would include the subject of an air pact between Great Britain and the Reich.

Any exchanges between them would be merely preliminary and unofficial, although it might lay the foundation for formal conferences of officially-accredited diplomatic representatives.

Since it was understood Viscount Runciman, newly-named British observer in the Czechoslovak dispute over minority rights, would leave for Praha on August 1, he would have time before then to see Capt. Wiedemann—although some observers believe Mr. Chamberlain does not regard settlement of the Sudeten German agitation in Czechoslovakia as an essential preliminary to any sort of Anglo-German understanding.

Addressing the House of Lords yesterday, Lord Halifax appealed for international sincerity, particularly in the Czechoslovak problem, which, he said, would take a genius to solve.

HEPBURN AND PLANE PARTY SAFE IN NORTH

Island for some fishing. It was said the overnight stop at Carcross might lead him to proceed to the Vancouver Island point today, with brief stops, if any, at Alaska cities.

Amateur stations were brought into the search for the overdue plane last night when other routes were closed.

Marvin Thoreau, Vancouver, got in touch with stations at Whitehorse and on the Alaska coast.

Before word of the Hephburn party's safety had come, Acting Premier Harry Nixon announced after a meeting of the Ontario cabinet in Toronto that arrangements had been completed with British Columbia for the sending out of a search plane.

Also in Toronto the office of J. P. Bickell, mining capitalist, had requested that all available commercial airplanes in the Yukon area search for the Hephburn plane.

From Ottawa the headquarters of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, which operates chain of wireless stations down the Mackenzie River, had sent instructions to all its ports in north to try to establish contact with the Hephburn plane.

FROM WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street associates of Bernard E. "Sell 'em Ben" Smith, famous New York broker, said today he was the B. E. Smith listed as a passenger on the airplane of Premier Mitchell Hephburn of Ontario, which was unreported for 15 hours in the Yukon.

Smith, one of the most widely known "bears" in Wall Street, reputedly made millions by selling stocks short during the depression.

A spokesman at the Wall Street firm of Thomson and McKinnon, where he maintained offices, said Smith left 10 days ago to inspect properties in the northwest.

The spokesman said Smith joined J. P. Bickell, Toronto mining millionaire, also a passenger aboard the plane. Bickell is president and Smith is vice-president of the McIntyre Porcupine Gold Mine in Ontario.

Smith recently attracted attention by a reported deal with the Mexican government on oil leases, after Mexico had expropriated United States and British-owned oil properties. He was associated in the deal with the mysterious British financial agent, Francis W. Rickett, who promoted the abortive Ethiopian oil concessions from former Emperor Haile Selassie during the Italian invasion of the African kingdom.

U.S. Flier Killed Near Belgrade

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Gordon Mounce, 38, United States test pilot and airplane salesman, crashed to his death today after 24 successful demonstrations in looping his baby Fleet plane at Belgrade's airport at Zemun.

Officials of the United Aircraft Corporation in New York said Mounce was employed by the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation of San Diego, Calif.

The victim, a former United States army captain, was credited with having made the first outside loop in a small commercial plane.

Maj. Reuben Fleet of San Diego is the head of the company which employed Mounce.

BERLIN (AP)—Millions of Germans learned from their newspapers today that by October 1 they must be ready to have their fingerprints and photographs taken and part with three marks ($1.20) to acquire a police identification card.

Scattered Fires Fought By Crews

COURTENAY, B.C. (CP)—With victory almost in sight, forestry officials concentrated today on fire tongues that had worked southwest away from the main body of the blaze in this region of Vancouver Island. One such tongue this morning had made considerable progress along a ravine in the direction of the Forbidden Plateau and a 50-man crew was put at the end of Dove Creek trail to combat it.

A morning flareup between Dove Creek Road and Burns Road, northwest of Courtenay, resulted in a hurried call to another tongue, but no serious trouble is anticipated.

While the fight is now concentrated in the southwest, workers are systematically closing all gaps on the east flank. Today the main camp of firefighters at Campbellton moved south to Oyster River. A few families of refugees are drifting back to their homes, although the majority are still under canvas at Courtenay.

BIG MAINLAND FIRE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Firefighters today continued to check the forest fire raging over 60,000 acres along the banks of the Beaver River south of Prince George.

Continued hot dry weather, however, added danger that the giant blaze, burning through one of the best stands of timber in the area, might again get out of hand.

In the Kamloops district, forest officials reported the fire situation unchanged.

WILKINS SEEKS B.C. SURGEON

VANCOUVER (CP)—Explorer Sir Hubert Wilkins arrived in Vancouver today by plane from Seattle with the expressed intention of recruiting a surgeon for his next South Pole expedition.

Sir Hubert said he and his party were scheduled to leave New York aboard a steamer early in August for Capetown, South Africa, with a single engine Northrup Delta plane.

At Capetown, the explorer said, the plane would be transferred to a small steamer for the trip to Enderby, on the south polar cap, where a base would be set up preparatory to making a 2,000-mile non-stop flight from Enderby directly over the South Pole to Little America, base for two previous Richard Byrd expeditions.

The expedition will be officially known as the Sir Hubert Wilkins-Lincoln Ellsworth Expedition. Its purpose is to gather meteorological data in hope of interesting some nation in establishing meteorological bases at Enderby and Little America.

With the rapid increase in international flying, such information would be of great value, said Sir Hubert.

Factions Fight In Rangoon

Six Killed and 100 Injured in Clashes Between Buddhists and Moslems

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Six persons were killed and 100 injured today in savage street fighting between Burmese Buddhists and Indian Moslems.

Shops were looted and burned and prisoners tied the jail as violence raged. Armored cars patrolled streets.

A tense situation developed today after police had stood by since Tuesday, when 40 were hurt in disorders, following publication of a book by a Mohammedan allegedly insulting Buddhism.

Troops of the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry were called out today to assist the police. Machine guns were posted in various places.

All business houses were closed. Traffic was paralyzed after noon. Many streets, strewn with bricks and sticks after the Buddhist-Mohammedan fighting, were deserted.

Wild rumors of stabbings, murder and shootings circulated. The mayor's automobile was stoned. A big fire was started.

Farm Program Studied By C.C.F.

EDMONTON (CP)—Adoption of a six-point agricultural rehabilitation program sent the national convention of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation into its business sessions today after hearing opening addresses.

Japanese reports were that the Chinese opposition in the area was shattered and that army units were advancing westward virtually unopposed.

Cholera was said to have broken out among refugees from Kiukiang.

"Despite reverses on the Yangtze, the Chinese repeated assertions that a Japanese offensive in southern Shansi province was meeting continued reverses."

Five Die In Crash Of Autos

PERDUE, Sask. (CP)—Five persons were killed instantly and four others were hurt seriously in a head-on collision of two automobiles on a rise of highway, 14 miles west of here early today.

Those who lost their lives were: William (Nick) Bayzor, 18, Wilkie, Sask.; Miss Betty Hants, 22, nurse, Wilkie; Miss Jean Fischer, 24, nurse, Wilkie; Edward Headman, Lacadena, Sask., and Mrs. K. A. McRitchie, Lacadena.

Seriously injured: K. A. McRitchie, Lacadena, brought to a hospital in Saskatoon; C. Christanson, 28, Wilkie, also in the hospital here; James Harbour, 21, Wilkie, taken to a hospital, and Ernest Thomas, 21, Wilkie, also taken to a hospital at Biggar.

The Wilkie party, consisting of six young people, had spent a day at the Saskatoon Exhibition and was returning home, going west. The Lacadena party of three, all in the front seat of a car owned by Mr. Headman and driven by Mr. McRitchie, was traveling east to Saskatoon.

The Wilkie car caught fire immediately after the accident. Charles Brady, address unknown, was asleep in a small car beside the road at the foot of the hill. The sound of the crash awakened him and he ran to the wrecked cars. He pulled the dead and injured from the burning car before the fire reached them.

The bodies were brought to a funeral home in Saskatoon.

Dr. P. D. Bennett, coroner of Perdue, has ordered an inquest to be held August 15.

Suicide Cause Of $100,000 Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—Unofficial estimates of the cost of John Ward's 17-story death leap to the street, the Gotham Hotel and merchants in the vicinity range up from $100,000.

No official figure is available, but it is pointed out the exclusive shops along Fifth Avenue and side streets from at least two blocks in each direction from the hotel did little or no business as police lines barred customers for hours Tuesday afternoon.

At least 1,000 police and firemen, two ambulances and an emergency truck, and several police cars were at the scene.

The body of the nerve-sick "man on the ledge" lay last night in the solitude of an east side funeral parlor. No one called to identify the shattered remains.

HIS HOUR

In the aftermath of the strange case, enacted amid a stage-setting of skyscrapers, neck-cracking cameras, magnesium flares, fainting women and even a television pickup, medical experts joined the man in the street trying to answer the question:

"Why did he do it—the way he did it?"

Dr. Joseph Jastrow, New York psychologist, pictured Ward—the 26-year-old self-embittered failure, the young man who had never dominated anyone, whose every venture in life seemed doomed to frustration—as enjoying a final hour of triumph.

"He stood up there alone, looking down on the great crowds, dominating a scene at last," he said. "He enjoyed it. He was perfectly self-centred and self-confident."

Ward, in the long prelude to his death, dangled his legs nonchalantly over the side of his 18-inch perch. He swayed and poised his hands as though about to dive, drawing gasps from the crowds.

Kamloops Mill Is Swept By Fire

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—A spectacular midnight blaze partially destroyed a small sawmill and lumber yard, owned by Senator Benjamin F. Smith of East Florenceville, N.B., across the Thompson River from here.

Only the mill office, a portion of piled lumber, loading equipment and a sawdust pile were saved from the flames. No estimate of the damage was immediately available.

The mill was outside the town's fire limits and the blaze traveled unchecked until a forest service pump and a line from a Canadian National engine were put into service.

Half the town turned out to see the fire.

Senator Smith now lives in Kamloops.

Train Kills Two Men on Hay Truck

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP)—Wade Morris, 37, of Redmond and Lester R. Whalen Jr., 21, of Seattle were killed today when their hay-truck was struck by the Milwaukee Olympian passenger train on the Woldale crossing six miles west of Ellensburg.

Blazing gasoline was thrown all over the Olympian's electric locomotive and burning hay was tossed in every direction. The railroad's power line dropped on the crossing and highway traffic was held up for four hours. The train was delayed nearly two hours.

The two men had slept in the cab of their truck at the Gooding oil station near Ellensburg last night. They filled up with gasoline before leaving this morning and had driven only five miles when the accident occurred.

Warning Japan

GREAT BRITAIN IS CONSIDERING "possible action" if Japan fails to respect British interests in China. This is the gist of a statement made to the House of Lords last night by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax.

There is no disposition anywhere to favor hasty action by Great Britain in the Orient. Admittedly, Japan has followed the examples set by Italy in Ethiopia and by Germany in Europe, and her policy has returned her surface dividends sufficient to allay the fears of a population which already is feeling the very serious economic pinch of the China "incident." Is she ready or willing to risk further provocation?

The question that will be asked now, however, is: Will Great Britain, in the event of Japan submitting her to further indignities in the shape of encroachments on British interests in China, apply the "possible action" of which Lord Halifax speaks? The militarists who are running affairs in Tokyo are obviously stopping at nothing likely to detract from the effects on the Japanese people of the expanding area of Chinese territory which from day-to-day is coming under Japanese domination. To what extent will this territorial subjugation be regarded by the London Foreign Office as inimical to those British interests in the Orient which Lord Halifax quite reasonably contends Britain has the right to protect?

Any warning to Japan at this stage which can be backed by an apologetic "note" is worse than none at all. Like Italy and Germany, Japan has done quite well with her bluff, but her economic plight alone should remind her that even the present British Government will permit itself to be teased only up to a point—and no further.

The Liberal in Dr. Manion

CANADA'S NEWLY-ELECTED NATIONAL Conservative leader, Hon. R. J. Manion, has been telling the people of Fort William that he considers a certain type of citizen more dangerous than any Communist. The Canadian Press report quotes him:

"I believe there is too much complacency among our well-to-do people. I spoke along this line in Toronto last week and afterwards a certain very rich man, who inherited part of his wealth from a father who made it in this part of the country, called me up.

"He said I was talking like a crazy man, like a red Communist. Then he asked me to have tea with him. Well, I didn't go.

"That is the type of reactionary rich man who is more dangerous to your system and mine than any Communist. Great wealth in the hands of a few and poverty and want for the many cannot but lead to discontent and perhaps revolution."

Everybody will agree with Dr. Manion when he says that Canada is a fortunate country, that it enjoys peace although wars are raging on two continents, and that that peace is being maintained by the two great democracies of the Old World—Great Britain and France. With this in mind he added:

"Our duty is to do the task nearest to us, to maintain the unity and the free institutions of our country and to do our best to establish social justice among our people, to see that our workers and producers have security and are not thrown on the scrap heap in their advancing years."

Dr. Manion's comparative allusion to wealth and Communism may send a harsh note to the ears of some of the old-style Tories. It will possibly come as a shock to that school of thought which has become set in its ways, dislikes the exercise of individual analysis, and prefers to stick a Communist label on any mind which tries to attune itself to the significance and purport of the march of events.

It must be the Liberal in him, however, which encourages Dr. Manion to subscribe in his own way to the precept that progress and good government are symbolized by the assurance of the greatest good for the greatest number.

Vancouver's Big Job

FOR SEVERAL WEEKS NOW A HISTORIC letter written by Captain George Vancouver has been available in London for $275. After a good deal of publicity given to the desirability of Vancouver acquiring it, the Vancouver Sun notes that $195 already has been subscribed, and then says:

"If private donations are not sufficient to complete the required sum, certain aldermen and higher civic officials have offered to contribute. The special committee of the council dealing with the matter has decided to make up any deficiency.

"This is good news. It would be monstrous if the archives of this city failed to contain at least one document intimately reminiscent of the gallant captain whose activities opened up this section of Canada and who gave his name to this community.

"But it is good news tempered by a feeling of chagrin that the purchase of such an important letter should have to be hawked about the city like a book of sweepstake tickets."

Our mainland contemporary naturally blushes as it tells the world that Vancouver is finding it quite a job to raise $275 for a document bearing the signature of the great navigator and explorer after whom Canada's third largest city is named.

On the Trail of Cancer

THE CHANCES APPEAR GOOD THAT a chemical cure for cancer will, some day, be found. This hopeful view is justified by a review Dr. Carl Voegtlin, chief of the National Cancer Institute of the U.S. Public Health Service, recently gave of the present status of the chemical attack on cancer.

The future angle must be kept in mind, for so far there is no chemical cure for cancer and no successful method of treating this condition except by surgery, X-rays or radium. However, Dr. Voegtlin says that in the experimental chemical treatment of cancer, when mice, not humans, are the patients, "some suggestive results have been secured." Referring to the way one germ-caused disease after another has fallen under the attack of new chemical remedies, Dr. Voegtlin says "It may not be over-optimistic to look forward to the time when similar results can be achieved in the chemical treatment of neoplasia (cancer)."

Among the results, achieved by various researchers, which Dr. Voegtlin believes indicate cancer might yield to chemical attack are the following:

The growth of spontaneous breast cancers in mice was arrested in nearly three-fourths of the animals following injections of extract from the placenta or from the skin of embryos. In more than one-fifth of the animals the tumors actually became smaller.

An old gout remedy, colchicine, a coal-tar chemical, arrests cell growth, and recent research indicates that the growth of certain mouse cancers can be checked by this drug.

Certain sulphur compounds have been found to have a definite growth-checking effect on breast cancers of mice.

When mice with another kind of cancer are given a substance obtained from one kind of bacteria, hemorrhage and regression of rapidly-growing cancers occurs.

Another Success Rule

THERE IS NOTHING LIKE DRAWING up lists of qualifications for success in this or that. The latest to come to attention is a list prepared for prospective brides and grooms by a professor of social ethics. What one needs to be a marital success, he says, includes intelligence, ambition, courage, education, self-reliance, a sense of responsibility, and business ability. The professor offers this handy-guide to counteract "the old custom of marrying just because some young man or woman happens to fall in love."

But, like most such lists, the qualifications in one man would produce a success at almost anything. The chances are that it will not counteract that "old custom" any more than any list of qualifications for success in business will counteract the old custom of taking a particular job just because some young man or woman happens to fall in love with the idea of having an income.

According to a census statement, one out of three farmers have some kind of outside income. What does one suppose the other two do for a living?

A British botanist says he once tracked a flea from Scotland to Central Europe. Now let us see him start in Central Europe and find where political sanity went.

Protest has been made over the seizure of eight Canadian cows found wandering on United States territory. If this were Europe, they would probably accuse them of photographing fortifications.

The summer dog-days news that brides and bridegrooms have been forbidden to kiss in an eastern church is balanced by the report from Cairo that officials have shut down on walling at funerals.

Pictures of Italian cabinet ministers and high public officials being made to leap through rings of fire and over rows of bayonets like circus horses present a curious ideal of qualifications for public service and statesmanship. There is no reason why the statesman should not be healthy, and every reason why he should be. A sound mind in a sound body, and all that sort of thing. Yet, to be reasonably healthy a man need not be a combination between Joe Louis and the Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze.

MAKING WORK WHERE NONE WAS BEFORE

Remember—technology? The theory which, only a few years ago, startled all of us with the claim that machines, displacing man-power, must make unemployment insoluble, crash capitalism entirely?

We recall it now upon looking over certain data presented to the Canadian Tariff Board yesterday by radio manufacturers. Not often has it been shown more clearly that modern technology, instead of displacing workers, actually makes work for workers.

Fifteen years ago, when radio's mystery was still in scientists' laboratories, there was no radio industry, no radio workers. Last year (1937) radio meant this for Canadians:

1. Twelve factories were turning out radio sets, and 19 factories manufacturing parts.

2. These factories represented an investment of $11,000,000, employed 4,300 persons, paid out $3,757,000 in salaries and wages.

Nor was that all. Creation of a new industry means help for old industries; so last year some 270 Canadian manufacturers of one sort or another were supplying materials for the radio industry, and 186 jobbers and distributors, and some 7,000 retail dealers were being helped too. It all increased enormously both work and wages. About 40 per cent of the sales of our furniture manufacturers (representing an investment of millions) are radio cabinets.

QUIET TONIGHT

IT'S ALL QUIET on the fire-line tonight. Out beyond the narrow fringe of green trees the fire is still burning, but it burns low tonight. It has gone into the ground, down into the pitchy roots of ancient stumps, deep down into the rich soil, smouldering, sullen, ready to spring up with the first breath of wind. Little patches of it leap up now and then, run through the dried bracken, sink down again into the vast fields of grey ash. Sudden flames stream out from dead snags with a shower of sparks as from a rocket, and die as suddenly; and the tortured old tree trunk glows steadily against the night sky like a red-hot poker.

It is quiet now, but every man knows that a wind may bring it to life in a few minutes, send it ravaging through the young forest. At the very edge of the fire the settler, a lean, stooped man with ashen face and sunken eyes, sits on the steps of his rough-board cabin and watches the patches of smouldering red just beyond his rail fence; the tiny drizzle of flame that come and go. He is too tired to do anything more, too tired to talk about it. His wife and kids have been moved to town long ago, but he stays on alone, hoping that somehow his little homestead may escape.

Five minutes' wind would whip those red embers up, send a wall of flame against the rail fence, the little barn of cedar shakes, the cabin with its two rooms, its old, battered furniture. Just a breath of wind is needed to blot out the work of years. The settler has cleared this patch of land from the forest with his hands, foot by foot, year by year, blasted the stumps, burned the heaped-up piles of old logs. The fire was his friend then. Tomorrow or tonight it may drive him down the road to the sea, burning even his little square of oats. But there is nothing he can do. He sits on his steps and nearby his cow grazes complacently between the stumps, a few yards from the tiny red rim of fire and ash. She is safe until the wind comes.

The fire is no longer a natural phenomenon. Throughout this countryside it has become a personal enemy, a living thing, with a will, a character and a mind of its own. We think of it that way—as a cunning, calculating creature, full of tricks, only lying low now, ready to spring up when we turn our backs. We speak of the fire as "she." She has crossed the road at Shelter Point. She's held at Quinsam. She's quiet at Headquarters. She's only smouldering at Forbes. From Forbes on it is like driving into the pit of Hell. Our headlights only penetrate six feet through the blue smoke. We have the feeling that there is no road ahead, only a vast smoke-filled cavern. Through the murk a burning snag flares like a torch and is gone. Here and there in the purplish darkness patches of flame glow faintly and fade out. Little tongues of fire lap the side of the road, close to our wheels.

Here a giant fir is burning from its roots to its highest branches. The flames have cut a vast groove in its four-foot trunk and this wound is bleeding fire. Before the night is over this growth of three centuries, this tree that has toiled up above its fellows, crushed its weaker neighbors out in the long struggle for survival, will crash to the ground with a brief flare of sparks. The three centuries are almost over.

Beside it, a million other great trees are standing, black and dead, with their feet in a sea of grey ash. A few days ago this was a green, pungent forest, deep in sword ferns. And that patch over there was covered with fine young firs, stiff black sticks now, thick as pickets on a fence.

Pete Haramboure, the little giant of these woods, got his first sleep today. He had worked four days and four nights without closing his eyes, worked until his face was stretched like rawhide and he could hardly speak. She's quiet tonight and Pete has shaved and put on a clean shirt, and he sits by the cookhouse watching the hills. He and his crew of loggers fought the flames with six miles of hose, stopped it within a few feet of a chaos of slash that would have exploded like a box of matches, stopped it as if by a miracle, stood up to it until their line of retreat was almost cut off. Then the wind changed.

But you would never know in this big logging camp that anything out of the way had occurred. In the cookhouse the white-aproned waiters serve steaks and puddings that would grace any city hotel. Even as the fire raged just a few hundred yards away, the cooks stayed at work, feeding their men. It is all part of the day's work. A side-push, one of the big logging bosses, comes off the fire-line for a little snack, doesn't pause even to wash, and his face is black but for red rims around his eyes and mouth. He gobbles two steaks and a piece of pie and is off again. She has to be watched every minute. She can never be left alone.

On the fire-line the groaning, grumbling caterpillar tractors keep pushing the logs aside, turning up the earth, heaving and grunting through the forest. But the line of bare brown earth they leave behind is pathetically narrow. It will hold her tonight, but if the wind comes again she can leap it in one bound.

They know that in the oven-hot office of the forestry service in Courtenay. There half a dozen exhausted men in shirt sleeves plot their campaign on a huge wall map, issue orders, listen to reports by telephone. She's crossed the highway north of Oyster River. She's held out west. More men are needed here, crews can be reduced here. We'll have two more caterpillars by barge from Vancouver in the morning. "Calling Campbell River, calling Campbell River," the radio operator keeps repeating until Campbell River answers, and then it's a message about 50 shovels and 20 axes needed down by Beaver. It is war, and this is the general headquarters, working quietly, without fuss. No use getting excited, no use wasting your energy. She's quiet tonight, but the wind may blow in the morning.

THE TWO-PARTY SYSTEM

From Windsor Star

Canada, as Sir Thomas White said in his admirable Ottawa address, has made excellent progress under the two-party system. If it is one that, on the whole, has produced general satisfaction. It is not perfect, but no system is perfect. By and large it provides this country with a reasonably efficient and thoroughly workable machine for carrying on public affairs.

All of us are inclined to grumble at times, to wish for this and wish for that, to deplore the snail-like pace with which Parliament proceeds, the jangles that go on, the deadlocks that arise. When we look around, however, and study the political uncertainties obtaining in so many other lands, we are apt to conclude that Canada is doing a pretty satisfactory job in a parliamentary way and that the two-party system is not to be lightly exchanged for something else.

At the moment, of course, there are more than two party groups in the Canadian Parliament, but only the two traditional, major parties have a sufficient number of members to cut any ice.

THE PADLOCK LAW

From Lethbridge Herald

The citizens of Quebec are citizens of Canada as well. If rights that are enjoyed generally by the citizens of Canada are taken away from citizens of Quebec, even though a minority, it seems to us that the central authority, that is, the federal government, should be in a position to safeguard the minority and their rights and privileges as citizens of a country founded upon the traditions of British citizenship.

The rights of free speech, of free assembly, of a free press, are all involved in the Quebec Padlock Law. That law strikes at these fundamental possessions of British subjects, and the Quebec government could, if it so desired, stop any of its political opponents from holding public meetings, making speeches or being supported in the press.

Communism in the Quebec act is not defined. The term is used so broadly that it is claimed it could be brought to interfere with a Liberal or a C.C.F. meeting or publication. If Mr. Duplessis and his government wanted to go to extremes in its enforcement, it is vicious legislation because it strikes at the very roots of freedom and democracy.

PSYCHOANALYSIS AT WORK

From the New Yorker

The morale of the Cafe de Paris, one of the nicest restaurants in London, was all but shattered some weeks ago by a wispy young man who came in at the height of the luncheon hour and demanded a table. The head-waiter told him that they were all reserved, but the fellow wouldn't take that for an answer. He picked out a table and firmly sat down, ignoring the "Reserved" sign, and as he had a rather wild look in his eye, the head-waiter let him remain.

There was a scene when the waiter handed him the menu. The young man read it through slowly and carefully, including the wine list. Then, in a loud voice, he said, "I shan't order. There's nothing here that I could possibly eat." He got up, glanced around the room, shook his head scornfully and departed.

Everybody at the Cafe de Paris felt terrible about this; but they felt even worse two days later when another young man appeared at luncheon and went through substantially the same performance—insisted on choosing his own table, complained of the menu, and stalked out without having ordered. At intervals during the next week three more men appeared, argued about the service, and left in huffs. It finally got so bad that the staff withdrew whenever a stag entered the restaurant.

Then, one day, the first of the dissatisfied young men showed up for dinner. While everybody watched breathlessly, he ordered a dry sherry, soup and a plain omelette, all of which he seemed thoroughly to enjoy. "It seems that monsieur has changed his opinion of the restaurant," the head-waiter said as the young man was on his way out.

"Oh, yes," the fellow said. "I suppose I owe you an apology, and all that sort of thing. You see, my psychoanalyst made me do that. He sends all his patients to two or three of the big restaurants, and they're supposed to make a scene. He says it builds up self-confidence. And I must say," the young man concluded happily, "that I've felt more sure of myself lately."

"If a cause be good, the most violent attack of its enemies will not injure it so much as an injudicious defence of it, by its friends."—Colton.

FASHION IS HARD-BOILED

To the Editor:—In all the world

let no man be heard raising his voice and crying: "What slaves to fashion these women are!"

For verily, one has only to walk down the streets of our own fair city on a hot day to see the poor men suffering in their abject submission to Lady Fashion. One will see countless hundreds of them with their silly heads sticking up out of tight collars, their necks surrounded by something resembling a hangman's rope but which is called a tie, and the whole upper half of their anatomy encased in a nice, warm, long-sleeved coat. On their brow one can see large amounts of perspiration; in their eyes large amounts of anguish.

Truly, not all of the stronger sex will appear in this distressing regalia, but most of them will. Note, then, the comfortable clothing that the ladies revel in during the torrid months. Short sleeves, and comfortable, cool necklines.

Let no man be heard saying: "What slaves to fashion these women are!"

FUTURE, AT LEAST, IS BEAUTIFUL

To the Editor:—Regarding writers on evolution and the Bible, if God wanted us to know of the embryonic state of mankind, he would have let us know it. Life in the undeveloped state is not beautiful. But God tells us plainly where we are going. And that is beautiful. Also, that is what men want to know about now.

URGES SOMETHING DIASTIC

To the Editor:—I read that the Sooke forest ranger himself put out six picnic fires on Sunday. I ask what is the use of issuing cautions to lunatics who apparently haven't the sense of kids of five or six years of age. Read some Russian news! There they eliminate such by a firing squad. They won't have their present and future natural wealth destroyed as we here have to put up with just because we don't take the proper drastic steps. The cat-o-nine tails might curb the work of such fools and act as a caution to other brainless picnickers.

Saskatchewan Picnic Held

Mount Douglas Park Scene of Reunion and Fun Yesterday Afternoon

Approximately 800 former residents of Saskatchewan now residing in Victoria and vicinity and visitors gathered yesterday afternoon at Mount Douglas Park for the third annual picnic of the Saskatchewan Association.

The afternoon was taken up in sports for both the children and adults and a basket supper which was followed by a brief address by the president, W. R. Ridington.

An event which was keenly contested and which caused plenty of laughs was the rolling pin throwing championship. Mrs. A. Kayman, former Regina resident, was the winner.

In his address following the supper, Mr. Ridington reviewed the former picnics held by the association and also presented to the gathering the question of election of officers which was usually held at such times. It was decided to hold the election of officers at the first social meeting in the fall.

Rowley's Boys' Band was in attendance throughout the afternoon providing the musical entertainment.

The members of the committee in charge were: W. R. Ridington, F. G. Greenway, P. R. Wilkinson, Dr. W. E. J. Elkins, W. L. Smith, J. K. Gordon, J. Maynard, T. J. Wakefield, W. Purnell and H. J. Bath.

False Teeth Wearers Are Worst Breath Offenders!

"Need More Than a Mouth Wash" say Authorities... Recommend Polident

Plates and bridges soak up odors and impurities like a sponge! A thin dark scum collects on them. This scum holds germs and decay bacteria. It is so tough that ordinary brushing seldom removes it. And it gets into every tiny crevice where brushing can't even reach. Almost always it results in "denture breath"—probably the most offensive of all breath odors.

Yet there's a perfect way to clean and purify false teeth without brushing, scrubbing or danger. It is Polident, the powder that dissolves away all scum, stains, tarnish and odor. Makes breath sweeter—plates or bridges look better and feel better. Tens of thousands call Polident a blessing for comfort, convenience and hygiene. Long-lasting can cost only 40¢ at any drug store. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau and dentists everywhere.

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic

Put plate or bridge in glass of water. Add a little Polident powder. Leave in 10 to 15 minutes—rinse—and it's clean and purified—ready to use!

Says Women Good In Railway Jobs

BALTIMORE, Md. (CP)—Thirteen hundred—and at times 2,000—women are employed in various capacities by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Twelve of 16 executives of the company, all supervising large groups of both men and women, feel there are certain types of railroad work that can be handled better by women than by men. This was ascertained by a questionnaire.

All the executives agreed women were just as loyal and as neat as men. Fourteen said they were just as punctual and 12 thought the girls just as quick and contented. Ten executives described the gentler sex as a par with the men in accuracy, but only eight found them as ambitious or as thorough as their brother employees.

Woman in Custody Changes Her Story

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A woman who told London police last night she was one of the "handcuffed sisters" who had attempted a Montreal-to-Vancouver trek linked together, changed her story today. The woman and her husband, who said his name was Henry Leduc of Montreal, were arrested last night and charged with being drunk.

When the two were arrested at a tourist camp, the woman asserted the Montreal-to-Vancouver trip "blew up" at Flint, Mich., when her sister decided to return to Montreal.

Inspector T. G. Lucas of the Ontario provincial police said she denied today she was one of the handcuffed pair.

"I'm an old married woman and proud of it," said Mrs. Bennington, nee Clara Farmer. "I don't see any news about gettin' married. Most everybody does get married."

The girl wife said she was just 10 years old when she left her fourth-grade school books in this hamlet about 35 miles southwest of Clarksburg, for pots and pans and life as the wife of Bill Bennington, 23.

Mrs. Bennington does all her

Sisters Welcome Old Pupils at Academy

St. Ann's Held Annual Reunion Yesterday on Alumnae Day; Eulogistic Addresses Given on Interesting Program

Former pupils from far and near attended the annual reunion of St. Ann's Academy held yesterday afternoon in celebration of Alumnae Day. The auditorium and reception rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion, presenting a gala appearance. The many guests were welcomed by the president, Miss Rose McKenna and members of executive; Miss Geraldine Murray, vice-president; Miss Veronica Neary, recording secretary; Miss V. Babington, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Blanche Yool, treasurer.

Assisting in greeting the guests were also Mother Provincial; Sister Mary Frances, Sister Superior; Sister Mary Anne-Ida, Duncan; Sister Mary Inez, superior of the Indian School at Kamloops; Sister Mary Ludovic, a former superior of St. Joseph's, now Sister Superior of the school at Kamloops; Sister Mary Winifred, Port Angeles; Sister Mary Margaret, of the Sacred Heart, oldest sister in the province, who had served as sister superior at New Westminster, Douglas (Alaska), and many other places; Sister Mary John Berchman, who has held the office of sacristan at St. Ann's for 50 years; and many other nuns who have been here attending the annual retreat.

SISTERS EULOGIZED

The devoted and faithful service of the Sisters of St. Ann was extolled in an address dedicated by its author, the retiring president of the alumnae, Miss Flora Hamilton Burns, to "The Reverend Sisters of St. Ann's Academy," and read by Miss Ethel Bale.

Miss McKenna read the retiring president's address which reviewed the year's activities and urged that efforts be made to increase the membership. The report noted that the National Federation of Convent Alumnae during 1937 had distributed $9,700 in scholarships. Very fine work had been done by Miss Helen Redgrave, Victoria, who was vice-president of the federation. Thanks were also expressed to the Mother Provincial, Sister Superior, and other Sisters of St. Ann who had given much sympathetic and practical support. A special welcome was extended to the venerable Sister Mary Theodore, who had founded the local branch of the federation.

TO RETIRING PRESIDENT

Later, in the tearroom, Miss Redgrave read an address indited to the retiring president, Miss Hamilton Burns, and commenting the splendid part she had played in bringing about the affiliation of the local association with the Canadian federation, "the outstanding aim of which is to advance Christian education." The address was supplemented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Miss Hamilton Burns from the alumnae.

PRIZES AWARDED

Miss McKenna presented the Mother Mary Theodore Cup, offered as an essay award open to grades 10 and 11, won by Sheila Dagg, who also received $5 from the alumnae; and two bridge prizes to Mrs. J. Neary and Father Geukers.

Miss Margaret Hutton sang two solos, accompanied at the piano by Miss D. Muir, and the singing of the school song brought the program to a close.

Tea was served in the long room, Mrs. K. T. Hughes and Mrs. Gordon Evans presiding at the urns. This room, like the others, was artistically decorated with flowers, a big bowl of clarkia and gypsophila gracing the centre of the table.

Alumnae Day began in the customary manner with mass at 8 o'clock in the old convent, with Mgr. Baker as celebrant, and at the conclusion of the afternoon's program, Rev. Father Gaudette pronounced benediction in the chapel.

Countess Had Hoped to Get Grizzly

MONTREAL (CP) — Trapper, explorer and author, Countess Anne de Mischaeen found an eight-months solitary stay in Canada's northland a "wonderful experience," marred by one disappointment. She didn't get a grizzly.

"I don't like killing things any more," the countess said. "I've had so much of that in the Congo. I do most of my hunting with a camera now. But I would like to get a grizzly."

A visitor to Montreal en route from her trapper's cabin north of the Pas to her home near Antwerp, Belgium, the countess is a stepdaughter of a Canadian, the late Senator H. S. Bland. "It was he who first introduced me to the wild life of Canada," she said. "And now I have spent several winters in the Canadian north country and I love it."

The countess has written three books, all in French, on her north country and hunting experiences. "But I find that the Latin peoples are not much interested in woodcraft—not like the English."

The countess's travels also include Africa. Two winters ago she crossed the Sahara Desert in an automobile with a friend. "Hot? Yes, it was hot. The hardest part was when we had to lay down boards for the wheels of the car on the soft sand of the desert. And we had nothing much to drink besides warm whisky and oranges that had been baked as hard as horn."

In the Belgian Congo she shot game for negroes who were trapping elephants for the government. She also shot wild water buffalo, "which in my opinion are the deadliest animal I have ever met. Lions don't count. Grizzlies I'm not too certain about. But a solitary water buffalo will charge a man, which no other wild animal will do. I know it, because I've been charged that way."

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. Should a girl call her date "darling" before other people?
2. Is it good manners to talk in a loud voice in an elevator?
3. Is a person well bred who makes remarks that are meant to be overheard by those nearby?
4. Is it bad manners to sulk or grow angry when kidded?
5. Is it a good idea to wise-crack at another's expense?

What would you do if—
Your feelings are hurt by a friend's remarks—
(a) Tell him so?
(b) Act in such a way he will guess your feelings have been hurt?

(c) Make yourself disregard the incident?

ANSWERS
1. No.
2. No, it's better not to talk at all.
3. No. (Though it might possibly be done in fun between friends.)
4. Yes.
5. No. It is a quick way to lose friends.
Best "What Would You Do" solution—(c).

It may be good farming to leave hedges and fence rows untidy, because game birds choose the overgrown shelter for nests.

"That's easy—it's Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES!"

These tasty, toasted rice bubbles are ideal for breakfast, lunch, or the children's supper. Sold by all grocers, served by restaurants. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Giants Losing Great Defence

Sports Mirror

IT'S HARDLY SAFE to look around when you're at a championship fight these days. They had just finished talking about the fellow who stooped down to tie his shoelace at the Louis-Schmeling bout and raised his head to find the battle over, when Al Hostak pulled the same quick climax in Seattle Tuesday night.

Figuring ringside seats at something like over $5 apiece, the Hostak-Steele bout was pretty expensive entertainment on a time basis.

Victoria's two beltlers appearing on the supporting card didn't give the customers much more for their money. Billy Buxton and Rex Carey polished off their men in a combined total of less than three rounds.

In case you're thinking the $30,000 odd Steele picked up for his short appearance is too high a dividend, remember that for every champ on there are hundreds who don't make ham and egg money.

If the charge of John Roxborough, co-manager of Joe Louis, is well founded, German interests certainly are pulling a sandy in moving picture reproduction of the last heavyweight championship duel.

Roxborough claims he has been informed from Berlin that pictures of the one-round knockout include sections from the 12-round bout in which Max beat Louis a couple of years ago. He has asked the United States ambassador to protest to German authorities over the version, which, he alleges, is patched up "to the advantage of Schmeling."

Gwen Spencer Hethley, Victoria's crack woman rifle shot who made a commendable showing in the Bisley meet this month, will be among a select group of feminine stars firing in the Dominion Rifle Association meeting at Ottawa from August 6 to 13. In the same meet will be Helen Rottenburgh, one of the outstanding shots of the United Kingdom, rated close to Marjorie Foster, winner of the King's Prize in 1930.

He's come a long way since he used to elude a ball around with an underweight masher in the high grass of a Gonzales Point field. He has come a long way. When Jimmy Todd, Victoria's lone entry in the Canadian amateur golf championship chase at the London Hunt and Country Club, looks back over his career he has every reason to feel satisfied.

As a kid he played in vacant fields and on the beach at low tide. He came up through the caddies' ranks, looking for lost balls in the gorse at Oak Bay when he needed ammunition for his own use. He wasn't interested much in team games at school. His thoughts were on golf. For the last few years he's been rated among the top in the northwest. Last year he was cut down in the semi-finals by Sandy Somerville in the Londoner's successful drive for the Canadian amateur crown.

If you wish, you may see a demonstration of caber tossing on Saturday. At least you may if the Victoria Highland Games Association can find entries for the unique event. You won't see it in the ordinary sports meet. It's like the haggis at a Burns banquet. And to most Scotsmen it's a grand event. Personally, we like to see men juggle logs with the equipment the British Columbia Electric uses when its gangs renew a telephone pole.

They said it can't happen here. They said that no matter how bad those Giants looked with bats in their hands, their defence would always hold them up.

But the great pitching, except for King Carl Hubbell, who's carrying the entire burden again, is gone. The air-tight fielding is up in the air. And the Terrible Terry Terriers of 1936 and 1937 are wallowing around a half game ahead of third place, five games back of Pittsburgh Pirates.

They've lost five games in a row, the latest a 7 to 0 four-hit whitewashing applied by Lou Warneke and the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday. They've dropped eight of their last 10.

They're only holding second place today because the revived Chicago Cubs developed a case of butterfingers last night and let the Dodgers score three times in the ninth inning for a 3 to 2 Brooklyn win.

PEP PACES PIRATES

Since Pep Young had a big day, driving in four runs to pace the Pirates to a 4 to 2 win over the Phillies, the Bucs were left five games out in front.

Deacon Danny MacFayden and Lou Fette tossed a pair of five-hitters and Boston Bees belted Cincinnati Reds twice 1 to 0 and 5 to 1.

Over in the American League, Yankees held their game and a half edge on Cleveland Indians, but the spotlight remained focussed on Hankus-Pankus Greenberg, Detroit's dynamiter in chief, who belted a pair of homers for the second straight day to lead the Tigers to a 9 to 4 win over the Washington Senators and boost the Detroiters back into fifth place.

The two round-trippers were Hanks' 32nd and 33rd of the year, and put him seven games up on Babe Ruth's record 1927 campaign, for the portion of the season already completed.

Rookie relief hurler Steve Sundra pitched 3 2/3 innings of hitless ball, hit a homer and a run-producing single, and gave the Yanks a 7 to 5 decision over St. Louis Browns. The second game of what was to have been a double bill was rained out. The Cleveland Indians nipped the Philadelphia Athletics 12 to 11 in a fancy slugfest. The Red Sox twin bill was washed out.

COAST LEAGUE

Rip Russell snapped out of a batting slump with a run-making bang last night to pace Los Angeles Angels to a 12 to 4 win over Portland Beavers and give Angels a two-game lead in the Coast League baseball race.

Relief pitcher Paul Gregory pitched a little more than six innings and limited the second-place Sacramento Solons to one scratch hit to give Seattle a 6 to 3 victory. In the eighth inning Gregory broke a 3 to 3 deadlock when he brought a run home with a two-bagger.

Neking three Oakland pitchers for a 19 hits, the San Francisco Seals made it two in a row over the lowly Oaks 12 to 5.

Lou Tost, promising Hollywood Stars pitcher, weakened just long enough in the last of the ninth inning to give San Diego Padres a 1 to 0 shutout over Stars.

EX-CHAMPION MAY RETURN TO RING

Scarcity of Heavies and Business Trouble May Send Braddock Back

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't laugh this off, but Jimmy Braddock may try that long-reported comeback. Business over at the "store" isn't what it ought to be and besides Mike Jacobs needs heavies like nobody's business.

Billy Terry (with his jints hitting the skids like everything) is siding with the newspaper guys again. Ray Gabiani, the fiddling wrestling promoter, has slapped a $25,000 suit on the 20th Century Sporting Club because he says promoter Mike Jacobs wouldn't install a cooling system.

Terry has retired from the Giants' third base coaching line, probably because it just didn't do much good. What we want to know is how old is Fred Johnson, the pitcher the Browns imported from the American Association?

Record books say he's 38, but some of his pals insist you can add three years to that and still be right. In which event Fred probably is the oldest regular in with major.

Best line of the week in this book was Prof. Paul (AP) Mickelson's "those terrible Giants." Old Jackie (Kid) Berg says he doesn't have to make a ring comeback. "I have a nice home in England and a profitable business—I just like to fight." And more power to him.

Lots of guys here are shifting from Armstrong to Ambers. Long Key, the trotter, is the favorite to win the historic Hambletonian, but don't go too strong on him. Is Gabby Hartnett going to keep on the Cubs than other guys who wanted the manager's job? In other words look for a brisk winter market.

Placing their hits where and when they wanted them, the grass-skirted dark boys set up a nine run lead in the first three innings and frolicked through the next six into the gathering dusk to win without stretching. They played smart ball, particularly at bat. But it was garrulous Prince Rusto, hilarious second baseman catcher and what-have-you, who stole the show with as admirable a display of reverse base coaching as was ever staged here.

The prince is scheduled to pitch tonight as the Giants play the second of their two-game stand, starting at 6:15. Rusto umpired. Rusto coached—both teams indiscriminately. Rusto climbed up the wire-netting that screens the grandstand to harrass the crowd and Rusto hit and bunted beautifully, but he was just too tired to make his stickwork count and was nicked regularly at first.

HITS HOMER

Burta, tourists' third baseman, contributed the only homer of the evening, lifting one over the left field fence with two on to bring in three of the four runs scored in the eighth.

Big Chief Bolo, tossing an assortment of slants, allowed 15 hits, but except in the eighth when three Victorians scampared around, they were well spaced.

The Detroit Africans took to Lonnie Murray for 17 hits as they piled up their 14 runs. They sacrificed further attacking strength to give the crowd a brand of comedy that took well and promised to pack them in again this evening.

Playing in the curtain raiser to the Cannibals-Victoria fixture, Greys eked out a 3 to 2 victory over the Blues in a juvenile exhibition game.

Open Campaign Tomorrow

Australia's Davis Cup team, reading from left to right, L. Schwartz, Jack Bromwich, Adrian Quist and H. Hopman, will start their zone play against Mexico tomorrow with two singles matches billed, Mexico's Daniel Hernandez and Quist will meet in opening clash and Eugenio Tapia of Mexico will play, Australia's two-handed stroker, Jack Bromwich, in the other encounter. The same four will clash at doubles Saturday, and change opponents for Sunday's closing singles matches. The victors will meet the winners of Canadian-Japanese matches in the American zone finals. The Australians and Mexicans play at Kansas City.

Clown Ball Club Beats Victoria

Zulu Giants Give Attractive Display and Win 14 to 5; Play Tonight

Zulu Giants, dusky Detroit diamond-dusters, ran their current barnstorming victory string up to 25 straight as they pounded Victoria All-Stars for a 14 to 5 verdict before a crowd that filled grandstand and bleachers and overflowed onto the field at the Athletic Park last night.

Placing their hits where and when they wanted them, the grass-skirted dark boys set up a nine run lead in the first three innings and frolicked through the next six into the gathering dusk to win without stretching. ## CURIOSITY CAUSE OF NET COMEBACK

Helen Wills Moody Anxious to See How Well She Could Play

NEW YORK (AP)—After 18 years of competitive tennis, and within a few months of her 33rd birthday, Helen Wills Moody still is completely absorbed and thrilled by the game that has made her one of the world's outstanding sports figures.

Her enthusiasm, plus a woman's typical curiosity to see just how well she could play were the chief factors that drove her out of comparative retirement back into the title picture.

"When you really love a game as I do, you don't ever lose interest in it," she admitted today. "I hadn't really retired in the last few years, even though 1933 was the last time I played at Forest Hills and 1935 was my last trip to Wimbledon. But I was in good physical condition, so there seemed no reason why I shouldn't come back."

"Actually I was setting myself a problem—just how well could I play?—and it's interesting to have a problem, even if it's only in a game."

At Wimbledon Helen won her eighth singles crown. Her next danger point will be the nationals at Forest Hills, September 8 to 17, when she will seek to bring her number of United States titles to the same total.

The answer to her self-posed problem also will determine how long she keeps playing competitive tennis. Helen won't commit herself now, but admits she has given no thought to ultimate retirement. She definitely has no intention of turning professional or coaching tennis.

Two-day Shoot Comes To Close

Police Wind Up Meet With Banquet and Ball; Sturrock Aggregate Winner

One of the most successful police revolver shoots ever staged in this city came to a close yesterday at the Thetis Lake range, with Constable Ed. G. Sturrock being crowned grand aggregate winner of the Victoria city police force.

The two-day meet, which attracted 70 shots from the local police force and visiting squads from Vancouver and Seattle, ended last night with the annual dinner in the Douglas Hotel, followed by a ball in the police station.

PRaises Enthusiasm

Sergeant W. Day from Seattle complimented the local police force on its enthusiasm in providing the new range, and spoke highly of the marked improvement in the annual shoot over a period of years.

Sergeant Day attended a Victoria shoot for the first time five years ago when each event consisted of two contests of five shots at 60 yards. Today, he said, it had branched out into a two-day affair, which is attaining considerable popularity in the Pacific Northwest.

Mayor Andrew McGavin welcomed the visiting shots from Vancouver and Seattle police forces, and expressed his appreciation of the co-operation given the Victoria police by those and other law bodies. He presented the awards won at the shoot.

Others who spoke were Col. J. H. McMullin, C. L. Harrison, Neil McDougall, Kitsap Revolver Club, Fremerton; Magistrate H. C. Hall, Police Commissioners Archie Willis and Edward Williams and Major J. Rycroft.

Victorian Beaten By Runner-up

Phil Farley, 1937 Finalist, Takes Match 5 and 4 to Reach Quarter Finals

LONDON, Ont.—Jimmy Todd, Victoria, beaten last year in the semi-finals by Sandy Somerville, bowed out of the 1938 Canadian amateur golf championship here today, the victim of Phil Farley, Montreal, who was also defeated by Somerville in the final last year.

Todd, not playing his usual game, was beaten 5 and 4 by the Montrealer.

The Victoria man had gained the fourth round yesterday when he holed a 45-foot putt to beat Henry Kowall, Seven Oaks, N.Y., 1 up after a comparatively easy morning triumph.

Farley made the turn in this morning's play 3 up over Todd. Both were over par, Phil with a 38 that included a seven on the third hole, and Jimmy with a 40.

Farley took the second, where Todd went one over par. On the third Farley went into a creek and took three putts when he got on the green. Todd himself was one over par. Phil took the fourth, seventh and ninth, halving the others.

Coming in, Farley gained another two holes and the match ended on the 13th. The victory put Farley into the quarter-finals.

Todd—

Ed. Kingsley of Salt Lake City got the jump on Ernie Palmer of Winnipeg, who floundered about on the out nine and found himself six down at the turn. Palmer was five over par. Kingsley finished the match with a 6 and 4 victory.

SURPRISE VICTORY

Len Bissell, public links champion of Western Ontario, pulled the surprise of the tournament today by defeating Gordon Baxter Taylor of Montreal, 1932 titleholder, 2 and 1.

Bissell, 20-year-old London youngster, who is playing in the Canadian title event for the first time, entered the quarter finals drawn against Sandy Somerville, defending champion.

Somerville today moved into the quarter finals with a 5 and 4 win over young Jim Hogan, Canadian and Alberta junior champion.

Bissell made the first nine with a medal 34, one under par against Taylor's 37. They had birdie duces at the second.

RESULTS

Fourth round results follow: Phil Farley, Montreal Marlborough, defeated Jimmy Todd, Victoria, 5 and 4.

Ed. Kingsley, Salt Lake City, defeated Ernie Palmer, Winnipeg, 6 and 4.

Ken Savage, Salt Lake City, defeated Gordon Taylor, Jr., Toronto Summit, 4 and 3.

Ted Adams, Columbia, Mo., defeated Jimmy Todd, Victoria, 5 and 4.

Brentwood Popular With Everyone

Fishing, Swimming and Boating—
Summer Sports

Of the many roads that tempt the vacationist on Vancouver Island there is none more fascinating than the West Saanich Highway to Brentwood Bay. The wise motorist will not, however, start to follow this highway with any thought of time in his mind, for the road winds and twists through such an interesting countryside. There are side roads, too, that tempt the pathfinder. One that will not be resisted goes up and away from the highway in an amazing series of spirals and curves to the very peak of Little Saanich Mountain, where the Dominion Observatory is situated. The view from the top on a clear day is well worth the extra time taken to make the ascent. Back on the main highway the motorist takes his leisurely way to Butchart's gardens. Again he will be tempted to digress, for the gardens in summer present a scene famous the world over. From Butchart's the way winds closer to the sea and soon a pointing sign tells the visitor he is nearing Brentwood.

THE ANCHORAGE

Brentwood Bay is an inlet of the Saanich Arm. It almost resembles a great mountain lake with the Malahat and surrounding wooded heights in the distance. There are two roads that lead from the main highway to the bay. The first of these takes one down to the very water's edge and ends at the Anchorage, an up-to-date summer hotel, where teas and light lunches are served. There is a splendid beach and the bathing is excellent. The grounds are well shaded and guests are assured of a real holiday atmosphere at this spot. This season the Anchorage is under complete new management. Mrs. A. G. Carmichael, the proprietress, specializes in good home-cooked meals that tempt fishermen and vacationists alike. She is on the premises from early until late and it is possible to make arrangements for a meal at almost any time.

BRENTA LODGE

From this spot a road follows the shoreline through the heart of the summer colony to end at the ferry dock. Here, nestled among the high oaks and towering maples, one finds Brenta Lodge. It overlooks the bay and its sloping flower gardens extend right to the shore. One may sit on the great veranda at Brenta Lodge and watch the marvelous sunsets or perhaps the salmon and grilse leaping and splashing in the bay. The lodge is open all year round. It is air-conditioned and fully modern in every way. It meets all the requirements of a well-appointed summer resort. The whole of the Saanich Arm, from Brentwood right out to Deep Cove, is famous for its salmon and grilse fishing.

Toronto People Visit Victoria

People from eastern Canada, particularly Toronto, continue to arrive in Victoria in larger numbers than in other tourist seasons. On the register of the Empress Hotel today are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar H. King, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. A. Hatton, Montreal; Mrs. B. G. Myers, Toronto; Mrs. C. Stephen, Toronto; Miss Thelma Williams, Ottawa; Mrs. R. C. Trimble and two daughters, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mortimer, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McNeill and Miss McNeill, Edmonton; W. S. Keeley, Nanton, Alberta; L. A. Hanna, Port Alberni; George Portious, Nanaimo; Mr. and Mrs. R. Ross, Squamish; Mrs. Robert Murray, Nanaimo.

A Carlton Tour Party of 21 members arrived yesterday, had breakfast at the Empress Hotel, went sightseeing for a few hours and left in the early afternoon for Vancouver.

D. A. Williams, chief clerk to T. E. Chester, assistant general manager of Canadian Pacific Hotels, arrived here yesterday from Winnipeg on vacation.

In 1874, Australian pearl fishers found an oyster in which there were nine pearls in the shape of a perfect cross.

Twilight at Brentwood Bay

When anglers go hunting for the big salmon.

Royston Beach Camp Modern and Clean

Royston Beach, on the long sweeping curve of Union Bay and within view of all the great islands that dot the blue waters between Vancouver Island and the mainland coast of British Columbia, is perhaps one of the least known of all the summer resorts on the island. Why this should be so is a mystery, for the highway passes directly along the Royston shoreline.

Here is a charming summer possibility! A delightful little community, friendly and kindly, offering all the beauty and all the out-of-door inducements that are to be found in the larger and better-known resorts. The water is warm and clear, a long beach borders the shore. There are expeditions to neighboring islands, swimming, fishing, hiking, tennis, riding, golfing and dancing. Could one wish for more?

Best of all, there is a modern and up-to-the-minute auto camp operating under the name of Royston Beach Camp. It is in a perfect situation, just off the main highway. The green and white cottages nestle under the shade of great trees, each one perfect in its appointments. There are showers, up-to-date sanitation, city water and electric light. H. R. Marvin, the proprietor, has succeeded in making his camp a spot where anyone could be happy and find a perfect vacation.

Royston Beach is a resort that once visited will be remembered and talked of for years.

2 Elections Today In Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—Today was election day in the northern provincial ridings of Athabasca and Cumberland, as residents trooped to the polls in deferred voting to choose representatives in the Saskatchewan Legislature.

W. J. Windrum, Prince Albert, is opposing Jules Marion, Meadow Lake, in the Athabasca contest. Both are Liberals. In Cumberland D. A. Hall, Liberal member of the last Legislature, is opposed by G. W. Smith of Prince Albert, Independent Conservative.

In the provincial general election June 8, Premier W. J. Patterson and his Liberal government were returned with 36 members, the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation became the opposition with 10 representatives. Two Social Crediters were elected, one Union Progressive and one Independent.

25 Years Ago

JULY 28, 1913.
(From The Times Files).
Many bush and beach fires engaged the attention of the fire department yesterday afternoon. None of the outbreaks were important, but any one of them might have caused trouble.

The water commissioner has issued a notice advising people in the northwestern portion of the city utilizing Elk Lake water, to boil all drinking water on account of the complaints as to its quality. Water in the Smith's Hill reservoir at the present time is over the 10-foot mark, the highest since the break on the Goldstream supply recently.

The great dam at Jordan River is almost completed. The gigantic project which has been launched, built and practically finished most unostentatiously, is stated to be the greatest in Canada.

Among the subjects which will engage the attention of the city council will be that of the civic salaries. Alderman McNeill had referred to the finance committee of the city council the whole question of the readjustment of salaries and from various reasons there have been delays since that time until the present.

Coronation For "Miss Victoria"

Crowning Ceremony on Parliament Building Steps To Be Followed By Ball

Accompanied by all the pomp and dignity that surrounds the crowning of royalty, the coronation of "Miss Victoria" will be held next Monday evening on the steps of the Parliament Buildings followed by a Coronation Ball in the Empress Hotel.

At the Junior Chamber of Commerce celebration offices today it was announced that although Premier T. D. Pattullo was away at the present time it was expected that he would consent to officiate at the crowning of Miss Kay White, who recently won the "Miss Victoria" contest with an overwhelming majority, and her two attendants, Miss Doreen McGregor and Miss Jean Wilson, second and third, respectively.

The coronation program in front of the Parliament Buildings will start at 8. The Canadian Scottish Brass Band will be on hand to furnish a program of music. All details for the program have not been arranged yet, but Junior Chamber officials promise a colorful ceremony.

An amplifying system will be installed to convey the ceremony to the public. The scene will be lighted by floodlights loaned by Central Films Ltd.

A beautiful crown is being made for "Miss Victoria" and coronets for the two attendants. All three will be outfitted in new style costumes from the Hudson's Bay Company. Miss White will wear an imported French ivory-satin lace gown in an Empire style with an upstanding Queen Ann collar and a train of satin with insertions of lace; Miss McGregor will wear an imported peach-colored crepe evening gown with a Marquise bolera jacket, trimmed with ruffles of the crepe. Miss Wilson will wear a turquoise muslin evening gown and a bolera jacket with taffeta applique around the edges of the gown and jacket.

NO CHANGE IN MILK PRICES

Marketing Control Obviates Fear of Increased Rate, Says Agriculture Minister

British Columbia milk consumers need have no fear of increased retail prices in milk as a result of the Privy Council decision ruling the B.C. Marketing Act valid, Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, said on his return to the Parliament Buildings this morning.

Pleased with the favorable judgment of the highest court in the land, Dr. MacDonald pointed out that the retail price, the wholesale spread and the price to the producer were all controlled under the act by the Dairy Marketing Board.

The general effect of the decision would be the tightening of marketing regulations which have been loosened pending the Privy Council's judgment.

The power of control was placed in the hands of the producers themselves and at the same time there was protection for the consumer, Dr. MacDonald said.

It is expected the plans for the establishing of a single agency to control all milk marketing will go ahead, this being another part of the government program which was held up until the court had made its finding.

Dr. MacDonald also announced that all industries now under marketing control would be given another opportunity to vote on whether they wished to continue under the act.

Votes on this question were suspended during the consideration of the appeal.

PROGRESS ON ISLAND ROADS

Hard Surfacing and General Improvements Being Made Under Works Project

Vancouver Island's share of the Department of Public Works $1,500,000 works program is now progressing at various points where hard surfacing and general improvements are being made, the department said today.

On the Cowichan Lake road, from Duncan, a new four-mile strip of hard surfacing is now under construction at the lake end of the road. Work is also proceeding on the Cowichan Bay cutoff where a double flush coating is being placed.

Additional work of a similar nature will be started in the Esquimalt and Saanich districts within two weeks, department officials said. The complete program for this work has not been decided upon.

Other sections on the island, between Victoria and Campbell River, where men are working now include: Dodd's Bridge, at Mile 43; the Nanose Railway crossing at Mile 90; Third Avenue, Port Alberni, where three blocks of hard surfacing is being constructed in conjunction with the city council; 2.15 miles on the Courtenay-Cumberland road; 2.4 miles on the Cumberland-Royton road and 2 miles on the South Wellington road.

Work is also being done on various roads around Duncan and Ladysmith.

In all there are about 60 men employed on the different projects which are expected to continue well on into September.

Dominion Gets Spot News Film

It was announced this morning by Cliff Denham, manager of the Dominion Theatre, that the pictures of the arrival of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in Paris, along with the pictures of the arrival of the young aviator, Douglas Corrigan in Ireland, would be shown today.

These films dealing with two of the most recent news events were flown across the Atlantic via the pickaback plane, making the fastest time that news pictures have been shown on the screen in this city.

Kenzie River Transport of the Hudson's Bay Company, was flown to Edmonton today from Fort Smith, N.W.T. A former resident of Vancouver, Mr. Sampson succumbed to a heart attack Tuesday. The body is being shipped to the coast. He is survived by the widow, a Vancouver resident.

Jaynes of the Salvation Army officiating, and assisted by Capt. Dale and Capt. Hansky. The hymns, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Abide With Me," were sung. The solo, "Beautiful Land," was rendered by Mrs. Hayward. The following were the pallbearers: George Rickard, J. F. Richard, F. Reynolds, F. G. Ramsdale, William McArthur and F. Stanton. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

PICNIC STAGED FOR AGED MEN

Annual Outing at Lagoon Enjoyed Yesterday Afternoon

The annual picnic entertainment, provided under the auspices of the Fred Landsberg fund for residents of the Home for Aged and Infirm Men was held yesterday afternoon at the Milburn Picnic grounds, Esquimalt. Lagoon, J. H. Beatty, chairman of the Landsberg Fund committee, and Alderman W. H. Davies, secretary, were in charge of the outing and were assisted by A. H. Anderson, Eli Dean, Albert Davies, Percy Fitzsimmons, Dr. Richard Felton and E. G. Snowden.

In the absence of the Mayor Andrew McGavin, Alderman Gadsden Burgess acted as his deputy, acting also for Alderman Stanley O'Kelly, chairman of the city's home committee. Among the ladies who assisted were Mrs. E. Bean, Mrs. W. H. Davies, Mrs. Stanley James and Mrs. Milburn.

About a score of the less disabled residents in the Home participated in the events. The competitive contests were spirited consisting of nail-driving, table quoits and loop-bottle fishing. An item of interest was a sparring match between two kiddies, Laurie Davies and Gerry James. Music was rendered by the Victoria Novelty Band, with Percy Fitzsimmons, Stanley James and Frank Lavery taking leading roles.

Alderman Gadsden thanked those who were active in preparations, in transportation and in catering, while George Hayward, manager of the home expressed the gratitude of the men for the program. The party returned to the city at 7 in the evening highly gratified by the day of outside life and the enjoyable ride to and from the grounds.

Mayor To Open Flower Exhibit

Unusually Large Number of Entries Received For Show at the Willows

An exceptionally large number of entries for the midsummer flower show, opening tomorrow at the Willows, has been received by the Victoria Horticultural Society. Indeed, the entries have been so heavy that officers of the society are wondering just how they can place them all.

The show will be formally opened tomorrow afternoon at 3 by Mayor McGavin in the Main Building at the Exhibition Grounds.

Judging will commence at 1 to-morrow, with Mrs. M. R. Jameson, George Robinson, E. W. White and Alfred Greene as the judges.

Large and beautiful displays have been entered by the City of Victoria, with flowers from the Beacon Hill park nurseries and the school gardens. The largest single gladiolus display has been entered by T. W. Forsythe of Cadboro Bay. There will also be a number of commercial displays as well as those of individual gardeners.

Vegetables will have a special section and some beautiful specimens were received at the building this morning. There will also be an artistic flower arrangement display, with decorated dining tables featured.

SAYS CANADA ART DISTINCT

W. P. Weston, A.R.C.A., Addressed Victoria Summer School This Morning

The entire history of Canadian art was the turning point works done by foreign artists who painted through the eyes of their own country to the formation of a more rational art, W. P. Weston, A.R.C.A., said in an address before the Victoria Summer School of Education at the Victoria High School this morning.

About 100 years ago there were no true Canadian artists. People were too busy trying to make a living to know anything of the arts. At first, artists came from the European countries to paint, but their works presented a picture of Canadian settings denoting the artist's particular home surroundings.

ART INDIVIDUAL

Since that time a certain distinctiveness had developed in Canadian art, until now it was rated as the only art of the Dominions of the British Empire which was individual.

The speaker said that the majority of the present day Canadian artists tried to see their country and represented it as they saw it. But nevertheless there were still a number of foreign artists painting in Canada.

Throughout the lecture, slides were shown illustrating points of interest. Mr. Weston made a brief comparison and explanation of Canadian painters, their scene and portrait works from early days to modern times. Original paintings and copies were set up around the auditorium to be viewed.

UNDERSTANDING NEEDED

In speaking to the Summer School yesterday morning, Dr. D. H. Kulp of Columbia University said that an understanding rather than condemnation, prevention rather than cure, should be the great objective of the teacher in his relations with the child. The subject of Dr. Kulp's address was "Mental Health."

He said that if a child were not succeeding in school as well as he should in terms of his ability and background, it was reasonable to assume that there must be reasons and causes, and the teacher should try to discover these. The teacher would do better to consider stealing and lying in terms of behavior than in terms of misbehavior, in the child, and would arrive at the causes more quickly.

Local Clubmen See Ball Film

Major League Stars and Baseball System Shown to Rotarians Here

Local Rotarians reversed the usual procedure today and let the ball game come to them.

They watched big league stars, experts in their own departments, demonstrate and explain the way to pitch, to hit, and to make plays as they saw the General Motors of Canada talking picture, "Batter Up," at their luncheon in the Empress Hotel.

Douglas Flintoff was in charge of the projector.

From the lips of Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York Yankees, they learned something of the system which made "Murderers' Row" the championship factor in the last two World Series. They watched Joe DiMaggio, Lou Gehrig, Rudy York, Hal Trosky, and Charlie Gehringer bat them out of the lot. They saw the slow-motion pictures of such pitching stars as Red Ruffing, Bob Feller, Johnny Allen and Tommy Bridges and had Mickey Cochrane explain to them the field generalship that goes on behind the plate, the signals and the method in which Connie Mack moved his field by score-card signs.

From Jimmy Dykes they also learned something of the work being done by the American League to promote baseball among young players and from the different managers they heard words of strategy and leadership that have made them important in their game.

At the close of the film, voiced by Ted Husing, personal touches in the lives of the stars were disclosed, as were graphic excerpts from the moving picture reproduction of the 1937 world series.

Movies Overloaded With Executives

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. (AP)—

Unionized screen directors yesterday answered the question—

—In a seven-page statement blaming an "inept army" of minor production executives.

The guild charged that:

Studio overhead—much of it wasteful, eats up 40 per cent of the cost of Hollywood pictures.

Duplication—uncertainty and waste increase the other 60 per cent actually spent on production.

Nearly twice as many pictures

French Star Makes Debut

Danielle Darrieux, who is presented in her first picture, "The Rage of Paris," which opened at the Capitol Theatre today.

FRENCH STAR AT CAPITOL

Romantic Comedy Provides Wide Scope For Danielle Darrieux

Today at the Capitol Theatre, Danielle Darrieux, France's eye-filling gift to the American screen, came and was seen. And so far as a wildly laughing house was concerned... she conquered. There need be no hesitation in adding that the dainty, winsome, pouting, prattling Parisian will add the rest of the country to her debut conquest. Universal's fair visitor is superlative and her first U.S. film, "The Rage of Paris," is a gorgeous comedy romance.

The story is all about what happens to her when she lands in New York, a poor little French girl, hungry and broke, and has to take a job modeling in the nude for a famous artist. In her excitement at getting a job, she gets the address wrong and begins disrobing in the office of an advertising executive.

PENROD SHOW AT OAK BAY

New Story in Booth Tarkington Series Now on Screen

So tremendously successful a picture was Warner Bros. picture last spring of "Penrod and Sam" by the immortal Booth Tarkington, that demands poured in to the studio from all parts of the country for another story dealing with Tark's resourceful and amusing young hero.

Not only was another one made in the shape of "Penrod and His Twin Brother," which opens at the Oak Bay Theatre today—but there is to be a third and probably more. They will be made, most likely, as long as people enjoy them.

Summer School Hears Baritone

By G. J. D.

Continuing the extra-curriculum

musical events at the Summer

School of Education, a vocal recital was given by the young

U.S. baritone, Stephen Kennedy, at the High School auditorium, before an enthusiastic and much-pleased capacity audience.

From the opening number, "Tu

Lo Sal," by Torelli it was evident that here was a singer with the rare gift of interpretation, the vivid spirit of the song, for this was a beautiful piece of singing, beautifully phrased, and with broad, expressive legatos.

The Bach "Good Fellows Be

Merry," from his "Peasant" cantata, was suitable to the lyric quality of his voice, and the final measures were delightful in pictorial quality, an outstanding feature in this vocalist's art, particularly evinced in the two concluding English groups, by Landon Ronald, Leslie-Smith, Valerie

White, Kenneth Walton, Manazuca, Hely - Hutchinson and Easthope Martin.

Mr. Kennedy gave two contrasting examples of Brahms' songs, "Die Mainacht" and "Botschaft," which won rapturous applause.

In the aria, "Vision Fugitive," fleeing vision from Massenet's opera, "Herodiade," there was some, very fine singing, colorful, dramatic and vivid.

Margaret Steinmetz as accompanist was sympathetic and very able.

Flood Threat In Spain Battle

Insurgents Plan to Blast Ebro River Dams to Stop Loyalists' Advance

HENDAYE, France (AP)—Insurgent plans to blast dams of the Ebro River and its tributaries in a desperate effort to halt flood a four-day government offensive were reported today.

Dispatches from insurgent cities behind the 90-mile front lines continued to insist the government drive, which started with a surprise crossing of the wide Ebro Monday and in which the government reported the capture of 15 villages and 4,000 prisoners during a thrust into Gandesa, was completely checked and the entire territory "cleaned up."

But observers with the advancing government armies reported men and guns still were being poured across the Ebro in support of advance-guard units fighting their way to Gandesa, a town of 3,700 normal population about 90 miles southwest of Barcelona.

FLIERS ARE BUSY

Although insurgents said continued relays of their warplanes had succeeded in blowing up the government's pontoon bridges across the Ebro, they were reported ready to dynamite dams as far north as the Pyrenees Mountains to try to trap militiamen who already had crossed.

Only the main highway west from Gandesa to Alicante was said to be still open to the insurgents. The road itself was under heavy shellfire from government batteries so that bringing reinforcements from other fronts was difficult.

The sudden government success seemed to have put so much pressure on the insurgents that offensives against Valencia, further south, and Estremadura, near the Portuguese frontier, were halted.

British Speed Army Recruiting

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain's territorial army, the country's second line of defence in the event of war, is at approximately 93 per cent of full strength. It stands according to latest figures at 185,000 all ranks, against an authorized establishment of 201,707.

Anti-aircraft units, whose task would be to protect Britain from air raids in war time, show the fastest increase in strength. The first anti-aircraft division, which includes the London area, is 91.2 per cent of its establishment and has doubled its strength in 12 months.

Rt. Hon. Leslie Hore-Belisha, War Secretary, announced recently in the House of Commons a sweeping development program for the anti-aircraft divisions. In future there will be five of these divisions, instead of two as at present. Strength of all ranks will be increased from 43,000 to 100,000.

Production of the new 3.7-inch gun will be accelerated. The 3-inch gun will be rapidly renovated and provided with a new type of shell to make it more efficient.

Using the existing type of ammunition, the 3-inch gun throws its shell to a vertical height up to 20,000 feet. The new ammunition will give it a greater range and will also supply a better burst, thus increasing the danger to attacking aircraft.

If airplanes were compelled to fly at a height of 20,000 feet or over to avoid being hit, there would be little chance for accurate bombing of objectives. But actually the gun is seldom fired vertically, but usually at an angle.

The new 3.7-inch gun is on the "secret list," but is adapted for especially rapid loading and firing. It is believed its vertical range exceeds 40,000 feet.

RAIN IN OREGON FOREST FIRE AREA

SEATTLE (AP)—Heavy rains came to the aid of firemen battling the 100,000-acre Warm Springs Indian Reservation forest fire in Oregon last night as the general fire situation in the United States Pacific northwest continued to show improvement.

Aerial observers said rain-laden clouds were sweeping over the partially controlled blaze near Bend.

Forest service lookouts, their observation from mountain peak stations blinded by smoke, took to the air late yesterday to spot 29 lightning fires in north central Washington. Supervisor Gilbert D. Brown of the Wenatchee National Forest said today 14 of the fires were under control.

C.C.F. Youth Group Chooses Leaders

EDMONTON (CP)—Mrs. Grace MacInnis, wife of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member of parliament for Vancouver East, last night was elected president of the national council of the Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Movement, succeeding Rev. T. C. Douglas, M.P. for Weyburn, Sask.

Council members elected: Miss M. McCollumb, Ponoka, Alta.; Hedrick Peddie, Winnipeg; Thomas Roberts, Calgary; Bert Suffern, Toronto and Jack Dundas, Montreal. Two more delegates from each province are to be appointed to the council at a later date.

In the one-day session, delegates discussed organization of new clubs in the Dominion. Resolutions adopted asked the national C.C.F. convention, opening tomorrow, to make efforts again to meet the famine and drought situation in western Canada, and asked continuation of active support of the Canadian youth congress movement.

BRITISH WARNING IS GIVEN JAPAN

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, warned Japan last night that Great Britain intends to protect her century-old interest in China. Addressing the House of Lords in a broad survey of the problems facing the government, Lord Halifax urged language about Japan regarded as blunter than that of Prime Minister Chamberlain in the House of Commons on Tuesday.

"We are quite ready," Lord Halifax said, "to consider and already are considering possible action open to us if we do not secure adequate consideration for interests in China we have a right to protect."

The Foreign Secretary appealed for international sincerity, on other scattered fronts endangering world peace—particularly in the case of Czechoslovakia.

Brig.-Gen. O'Neil, Portland, Dies

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Brig.-Gen. Joseph Patrick O'Neil, retired, long-time army friend of Governor Charles H. Martin, who is a retired major-general, died here yesterday. He was 74 years old.

Gen. O'Neil, known to his soldiers in the western Indian wars as "Fighting Patsy," was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., on December 27, 1863.

MARGIN TRADING NOT TO BE ENDED

WASHINGTON—Followers of the securities markets and brokers may be relieved to know that the most recent boom in stocks has not been marked by a resurgence of the idea, so earnestly talked about last August, of restricting or eliminating margin trading by the general public. Last year an earnest group of White House insiders wanted to end margin trading, but thought that so drastic a reform should be imposed when the market was at the bottom, not at a wobbly peak.

These insiders, insisting that they still hope for abolition of margin trading, became too engrossed in the anti-monopoly investigation to urge their point while the market was bouncing along on the bottom. If prices continue upward, they will have to defer their plans for a long time. Elimination of margin trading finds little support within the Federal Reserve Board, the agency in direct control of margin requirements. Officials there, however, have at least two interesting ideas for changing the margin system which will bear watching, but which will not materialize in the near future.

First, the suggestion is advanced that brokers be denied the privilege of lending money, turning all lending over to the banks. This plan, intended to discourage speculation on credit by persons with small means, would admittedly have a disastrous effect on brokerage income and may be permanently stymied behind this objection. The idea is, however, that the "little man" would hesitate before telling his banker he wanted to borrow for speculation, before signing a note and before posting collateral to secure the note. Second, the suggestion has been made that small buyers be exempted from the margin requirement if they agree to amortize their debt balance over a stated period. This plan aims to encourage stock ownership in the lower income groups, but smacks of the employee stock purchase plans which made everyone's face red in October 1929.

VANCOUVER PRODUCE

JULY WHEAT BONDS UP SLIGHTLY

WINNIPEG (CP)—July wheat provided most of the interest on a quiet Winnipeg market today. The cash month option fluctuated fractionally higher and lower than yesterday's level and at one time showed a cent advance.

The close placed July % higher at 93%. Quotations on futures prices were % higher to % lower, October at 76%, November 75% and December 74%.

Featureless trading was the order of the day. Export business was estimated at 200,000 bushels and included old crop and durums.

Chiefly responsible for the higher tendencies today were reports of slim rainfall in the west and strength at Liverpool. Interest was at low ebb during mid-session and prices fell somewhat. There were rallies in the closing exchanges.

Liverpool closed 3d higher to % lower. Buenos Aires was % to % lower at noon.

Cash wheat showed slightly better, with durums up about a half-cent. Other spreads were unchanged.

Pit trading in coarse grains was dull, with some support showing for barley.

The Life of John Muir IV—IN CALIFORNIA

If it had not been for a sickness, John Muir's life might have come to an early end. That may seem a strange thing to say, but here are the reasons for saying it:

A scene in Muir Woods. Note size of man.

Muir's plan was to go from Florida to Cuba, then to a northwestern part of South America, where he could build a raft and go down one of the branches of the Amazon. He expected to float southward and eastward until he reached the mouth of the Amazon.

It was a bold plan, but it was filled with danger. The Amazon valley contains great numbers of deadly snakes. Wild Indians of the region had seldom, if ever, seen a white man, and very likely would have shot the stranger with a poison arrow. Muir might have met the same fate as so many Amazon explorers.

The sickness was a fever which Muir suffered in Florida. It took the heart out of his plans. He did ask about boats to South America, but probably was glad when he found no ship was sailing there in the early future.

Instead of going to South America, he boarded a steamer which took him to the Isthmus of Panama. There was no Panama Canal in those days, so he traveled overland across the isthmus and boarded another boat. Then he sailed northward to California.

Muir was 30 years old when he landed in San Francisco. After only one day in the city, he started to explore the wilds of California. Among the places he visited was "Twenty Hill Hollow," and he decided to live there for a time.

"Ground-squirrels are the most common animals of the hollow," he wrote. "They have tunneled their homes in several hills. It is interesting to observe a ground-squirrel town in time of alarm. Their one circular street resounds with sharp cries, 'Seekit, seek, seek, seekit!' Some peep half out of doors, and engage in low, purring chat. Others, on the doorkill or on the rock above, shout as if calling attention to the enemy."

Muir made notes about other animals in California, but his main interest was in the flowers and shrubs, and—above all—the mighty redwood trees. He did more than study nature. He wrote about it as well. Some of his articles were published in magazines, and the payments helped care for the small cost of his living. He also wrote books, one of them called "The Yosemite."

Largely because of his writings, the Yosemite Valley was made a national park. He also helped to save redwood forests in other parts of California from being cut down by lumbermen.

HOROSCOPE

After the early morning hours, adverse aspects dominate today, according to astrology. The planetary government favors women who are immersed in domestic affairs.

While there is a good sign for completing what has been well started, beginnings of every sort will not progress rapidly and should be postponed.

Secrecy is encouraged by this configuration, which presages intrigue and double-dealing. Many secret marriages are forecast. Weddings on the dole will multiply.

Threatening portents continue to rule labor affairs, but the autumn will be marked by the speeding up of many industries. Race antagonism will be prominent in coming weeks. Principles of the American nation will often be ignored by hostile groups.

Girls come under a configuration which inspires effort to be conspicuous. Coiffures as well as costumes are to reveal many vagaries of the feminine mind.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Two men wish to marry me. One is rich and one is poor. The rich one I do not love because he is illiterate, morally weak, inconstant and bores me to death. I love the poor one madly. He is clean and fine and brilliant. But, being an extravagant woman and quite clothes-mad, I feel I cannot be happy without the life of ease and all the lovely things to which I am accustomed. On the other hand, the poor one would give me a beautiful love and be my intellectual equal, but little else. Ultimately, which will be my greater need—love and companionship, or ease and luxury? I do not know. Yet I must make a decision before long.

JENNIE.

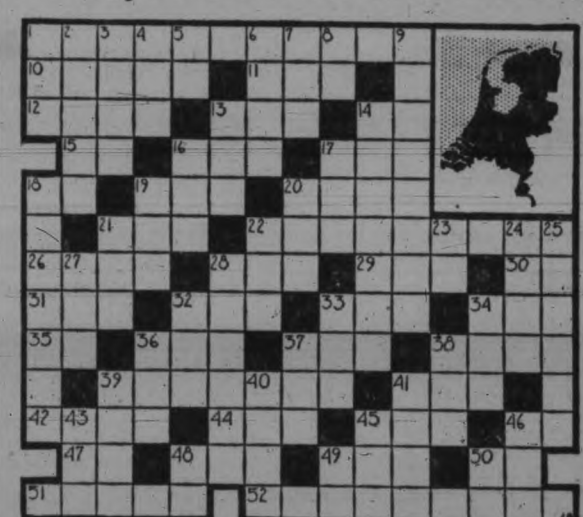

Answer: If you have more back than heart and would rather ride in a limousine with a bore than to have your true-lover's arm about you and walk through life with a fascinating companion, then take the rich man. But the trouble with marrying a man for his money is that so often he loses it, and you have nothing left. Whereas the poor man often makes a fortune. But whichever way you decide the question you will probably have your moments of wishing you had taken the other.

DOROTHY DIX.

der a rule of the stars which warns of unusual problems and increased difficulties. The coming winter will be perilous to cities, where unemployment is not diminishing.

Group From High School in Southern Dominion to Camp in Canadian Rockies

Thrilled by the long sea voyage and highly excited at stepping ashore in Canada, 21 New Zealand high school boys reached Victoria early this afternoon by Ms. Aorangi.

It is their first visit to this Dominion, where they will camp with Canadian and English boys near Banff.

They disembarked in charge of P. W. Hargreaves, headmaster of Waitaki High School, Oamaru, New Zealand, and took a sight-seeing drive about Victoria before proceeding with the liner to Vancouver.

Hon. Dr. George Weir, Minister of Education for British Columbia, welcomed the group with the following message:

"The Education Department of British Columbia and the National Council of Education extend a most cordial welcome to the master and boys representing the Waitaki High School of the Dominion of New Zealand as they reach the shores of British Columbia, the most westerly province of the Dominion of Canada. May your visit with us be a very happy one."

A letter received here, advising of the visit, said "this is an enthusiastic little party, fresh, young and ardent and able to profit marvelously from the good fortune of this trip. The boys come from good homes, and are all mighty keen on seeing something of the wonderful Empire which they have been taught to admire, respect and serve."

On their way home to New Zealand at the end of August the boys will spend three or four days in Victoria, with visits each day to points of interest on the lower section of Vancouver Island. They will sail from this port August 31 by Ss. Niagara.

The visit of the group is being sponsored by the Overseas Education League, which also brought the party of English schoolboys to Canada and arranged the camp in the Canadian Rockies, where they will fraternize for 10 days.

The Aorangi is bringing 350 passengers today, about 75 disembarking here en route to Seattle by Ss. Princess Marguerite at 5 this afternoon.

Prominent passengers aboard include H. C. Fenton, London representative of the Australian National Travel Association, and L. C. Ounze of Vancouver, connected with the H. R. MacMillan interests.

Mauretania Is Launched With Cheers of Crowds

New Cunard-White Star Liner, With Famous Name, Afloat in Mersey Today

BIRKENHEAD, Eng.—The new Mauretania, for the Cunard-White Star Line, slid down the ways in the Mersey estuary today after Lady Bates, wife of the Line's chairman, pressed an electric button which released the big ship, and broke a bottle of rare old champagne over her bow.

A crowd, estimated at 50,000, lined the river banks to watch the scene as one of the biggest ships built there in recent years took the water. Usually ships of her size are built on the Clyde.

The crowd sent up a cheering as the black, white and red hull glided slowly down the ways over seven tons of tallow. She gained speed as she neared the water and went in with a great splash, and then rode gently in the stream, later being towed alongside a dock where she will be completed.

The new liner, of 33,000 to 40,000 gross tons, will have 10 decks, one for sports and another for sun-bathing.

She has been designed especially to cater to the lower-price trans-Atlantic tourist trade and will ply between England and New York. She will make her trial runs early next year and will be in service for the opening of the 1939 Atlantic season.

The new Mauretania will never be as speedy as her famous namesake, which for years held all Atlantic Ocean records. The new ship is expected to do 22 knots.

The old Mauretania, recently scrapped, was the Atlantic's fastest ship until about six years ago when European nations commenced building new express liners. The German liners Bremen and Europa, the Italian Rex and Conte de Savoia outstripped her and then came the British Queen Mary and the French Normandie to still further cut the Atlantic crossing.

Now eyes of the steamship world are fastened on the new Cunard-White Star liner building on the Clyde. She will be sister-ship to the Queen Mary and will be christened Queen Elizabeth. She will not be ready for service, however, for several years. Ancient Mauretania included what is now Morocco and part of Algeria, and was originally a kingdom of Hamitic tribes, ancestors of the Berbers, but under Claudius it became a Roman province.

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and use as directed a package of Hemoroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Tragedy Recalled

TORONTO (CP)—A delegate to the Canadian Corps reunion, Joseph LaFontaine of Toronto, proudly displayed today a letter conveying the regrets of King George V over LaFontaine's death. "Don't let anyone tell you dead men tell no tales," LaFontaine said with a laugh.

"I was on the Llandoverly Castle, the hospital ship torpedoed June 27, 1918, about 70 miles off the coast of Ireland," he said. "Of the 80 soldiers on board, only five were saved."

"I clung to a raft until picked up by a fishing boat and was taken to Wales. When I arrived back in Canada I applied for my discharge papers and was told my family had been informed of my death. It took two years to get my death erased from the official records."

Miss Christina Campbell, nurse, of Victoria, and sister of the late Angus Campbell, was among those drowned on the Llandoverly Castle.

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and use as directed a package of Hemoroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.
